Sharp Jump In Casualties Noted In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S., South Vietnamese and enemy casualties jumped to their highest level since last May during the first week of the Viet Cong's current spring offensive, the allied commands announced today.

The U.S. Command said 453 Americans were killed last week and 2,593 were wounded, with 1,051 of the latter hospitalized. The number of dead was nearly triple the previously weekly average for 1969 and was the highest American toll since the week of May 12-18, 1968, when 549 were killed and 2,282 were wounded during another big enemy offensive.

The Saigon government reported 521 of its men killed, while the allied commands said at least 6,752 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese died in the first seven days of the enemy's new drive on South Vietnamese towns and allied military installations.

The U.S. Command said the weekly casualty report raised the total number of Americans killed in combat in Vietnam to 32,376, including 9,425 since preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13. Of the latter number, 2,319 died after South Vietnam agreed on Dec. 7 to join the talks.

U.S. headquarters said at least 457,132 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed since Jan. 1, 1961, when the United States entered the war.

The South Vietnamese government also reported 208 civilians killed and 677 wounded during the first seven days of the enemy offensive last week. The toll continued to rise today as Saigon was hit by the most devastating shelling in the offensive so far. Heavy rockets smashed into a densely populated slum, killing at least 25 civilians and wounding more than 70. Most of the dead were children.

The rocket barrage crashed in less than 24 hours after President Nioxn warned that the United States would not tolerate the continuation of such attacks. However, the shelling was not believed ot be a reply to that warning because the enemy's communications facilities are not thought to be efficient enough to arrange such a quick reaction.

McDivitt And Schweikart Transfer Into LEM Again

Astronauts Set To Open Up Hatches

To Brave Vacuum Of Outer Space In Pressure Suits

BULLETIN

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronaut Russell L. Schweickart was feeling so good today that Apollo 9 commander James A. McDivitt decided he could make a shortened space walk. "Let's let him make one daylight pass on the front porch," McDivitt told Mission Control. "Roger, we agree," the ground concurred.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Russell L. Schweickart transferred into their lunar module (LEM) for the second straight day today as the Apollo 9 astronauts prepared to open the hatches of both spaceships to brave the vacuum of outer space in pressure suits.

But there will be no space walk from one ship to the other because of illness suffered Wednesday by Schweickart, who was considerably better today.

Air Force Col. David R. Scott may poke his head and shoulders out of the command ship hatch to try to retrieve a thermal patch that Schweickart was to have snatched while outside. The patch was fastened to Apollo 9 before launching to test effects of heat and engine firings on various materials.

When the hatches open McDivitt and Scott are to be plugged into support systems of their respective ships. Schweickart wears a life-sustaining back pack that will protect astronauts on the moon.

Schweickart and Air Force Col. McDivitt moved through a connecting tunnel from the command ship to the LEM and revved up the systems of the spidery craft which they hope to qualify to land two astronauts on the moon in July.

The LEM performed flawlessly Wednesday, the first time the odd-looking vehicle had been operated in space by man. It receives its most critical test Friday when McDivitt and Schweickart separate it, fly more than 1 miles away and then seek out Scott and the command ship in a celestial game of hide and seek.

Schweickart showed no signs today of the nausea that struck him Wednesday. But because of the possibility of a recurrence, there was no plan to reinstate the canceled space walk.

Schweickart had two vomiting

Motorcycle Kills Boy, 8, At Newell

Hancock County sheriff's deputies continued their investigation today into the death of an 8-year-old Newell boy who was killed by a motorcycle while crossing the street Wednesday afternoon.

Michael Lee Dunlevy, son of Lt. and Mrs. Ronald Dunlevy of Washington St., was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital after being struck by the cycle about 4:30 p.m. at 9th and Washington Sts. He suffered a fractured skull.

Lt. Dunlevy is serving in Vietnam.

Jerry Lynn Powell, 21, of Chestnut St., New Cumberland, driver of the motorcycle, was treated at City Hospital here for leg injuries and is listed in satisfactory condition.

The accident is being investigated by Depuites William Lassan and Howard Smith.

Michael Lee was born Nov. 6, 1960, at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

In addition to his father and his mother, the former Joyce Carol Ripley, he is survived by a sister, Susan Dunlevy, and a brother, Ronald Dunlevy Jr., both at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur L. Dunlevy of New Cumberland; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Freda Armstrong, and his maternal grandfather, William Ripley, both of Newell.

Nixon Again Attacked By Cong At Talks

Shelling Of Cities And Towns In Viet Defended By Reds

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong defended its shelling of civilian centers in South Vietnam today and made a new attack on President Nixon.

The shelling dominated the seventh session of the enlarged Vietnam peace talks at the International Conference Center. President Nixon had threatened "some response that will be appropriate" if the shellings continued, but the Viet Cong killed 25 civilians and wounded more than 70 in a rocket attack on Saigon today.

Tran Buu Kiem, the "foreign minister" of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, told the American and South Vietnamese delegations: "We reaffirm once again the sacred and inalienable right to self defense of the armed forces and population of South Vietnam."

He said the U.S. and Saigon governments were making a lot of noise about events in Saigon because they had suffered "stunning defeats."

Even With Election Over

Reds Again Close Berlin Autobahn

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany continued its harassment of traffic on the main autobahn between West Berlin and West Germany today even though the election of the West German president in Berlin was over.

The Communists closed the superhighway between Berlin and Helmstedt from 9 a.m. to noon.

A West Berlin customs officer said one lane at the West Berlin end had been left open, apparently for vehicles of the U.S. British and French garrisons, but it was not known if any had gone through.

The East Germans could be trying to give credence to their claim that periodic closing of the autobahn is necessary because of Warsaw Pact maneuvers in the area.

Meanwhile, West Berliners and others were asking why the Communists hadn't done more to interfere with the uneventful presidential election.

There were no sonic booms from East German MIGs over the West Berlin hall in which the Federal Assembly elected Gustav Heinemann, a 69-year-old Socialist. There was no barrage of propaganda leaflets, no buzzing of Western airliners en route to Berlin and not even the massive demonstrations threatened by West Berlin's militant New Left.

Instead, after weeks of Communist warnings that the election could not be held in Berlin without "grave measures" of reprisal, the East Germans closed the roads between the city and West Germany while 1,021 members of the West German Federal Assembly elected Heinemann to be president for the next five years.

First the Communists closed both ends of the most-traveled autobahn to the West for three hours, until U.S. and British military convoys appeared to make the trip.

Pay Proposals Scaled Down To 5 Per Cent

$50 Increases Due Peterson, Vodrey And Huddlestun

City Council Wednesday night scaled down to a flat 5 per cent proposed salary increases for 14 city employes and agreed on $50-a-month boosts for two department heads and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The action last night revised an ordinance tabled at Council's meeting Monday night. It listed more substantial boosts, some ranging up to 33 per cent. Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said the legislation providing for the revised raises probably will be presented at Council's next regular session March 17.

In addition to Vodrey, the $50 boosts were agreed upon for Harold Peterson, water department superintendent, and Charles Huddlestun, head of the sewage disposal department.

The action meant no change in the salary increase proposed for Vodrey. Now paid $650, he will advance to $700.

Peterson, now drawing $621, will advance to $671 under the proposal. Huddlestun, who is paid $609, would be boosted to $659.

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, had proposed a $179 raise for Peterson, setting his new salary at $800. It had suggested a $91 raise for Huddlestun, which

Indefinite Duration Seen For 2 City School Levies

Proposals for renewal of two East Liverpool School District levies may be revised to extend an indefinite number of years due to an amended Ohio law.

The board of education Monday night agreed to submit the 11-mill and 1-mill levies in the May 6 primary election for a 10-year period.

However, the board has been advised by City Solicitor Michael Kapp a 1967 amendment to the laws requires any new or renewal levy for current expenses for a school district must be for a continuing period of time.

The 11-mill measure is for current expenses and the 1-mill is for repairs and maintenance.

Kapp said he consulted with County Prosecutor Warren Bettis and County Auditor Kenneth Bell, and they both stated this was also their interpretation of the law.

Samuel W. Brown, board president, said this morning he has

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A flying policeman landed his airplane to write out a ticket because he said a train blocked a crossing too long.

Sgt. Al Ford was flying over Tampa broadcasting traffic reports. He spied the train at a crossing and started timing it. It sat there 11 minutes, Ford said.

He landed, drove to the railroad yard and cited A. J. Simpson, yard conductor, for violation of a city ordinance that trains cannot block an intersection longer than five minutes.

Light Snow Expected For Tri-State Region

All good things generally come to an end — and the weather is no exception.

The pleasant spell of the last few days is about to give way to light snow today and cooler temperatures Friday.

The forecast calls for the snow this afternoon or evening, with tonight's low in the middle 20s. Tomorrow's high will be in the lower 30s.

Partly sunny and cool is the outlook for Saturday.

4 Car Thefts Cleared With Boy's Arrest

Four East Liverpool auto thefts in the last three weeks were cleared up Wednesday afternoon when the detective bureau cited a 14-year-old North Side boy.

Now in custody of his parents, the youth is due for arraignment Monday at 9 a. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon. An eighth-grader at Westgate School, the youngster was questioned on the basis of anonymous tips in connection with the most recent theft. He admitted the latest theft and three others that occurred in February, officers said.

Detectives said the arrest cleared up these thefts: An auto owned by William Williams of Wellsville, taken Feb. 12 from the lot at the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. on St. Clair Ave. and later recovered on Buckeye Ave., Wellsville; a

Capt. Tice Appointed Acting Chief Of Police

Capt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice was appointed Wednesday afternoon by Mayor George E. Willshaw to serve as acting head of the police department during the illness of Chief A. J. Radeschi.

The chief remained in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where he was admitted Sunday after a slight coronary attack. The mayor said he has not learned how long the chief will be off duty, but assumes it will be several weeks.

Tice commands the department's uniformed division. He joined the department in 1950. He was away from the force for two intervals to serve with the County Welfare Department and in plant protection at a Midland mill. Returning to the force in 1958, he became a lieutenant in 1962 and a captain in February 1968.

High Court Says Konchar Protest Is Unanswerable

The clerk of the West Virginia Supreme Court has advised Hancock County Clerk George Konchar the court is unable to act on his questions concerning opening of ballot boxes in the disputed Hancock County sheriff's election.

George W. Singleton, clerk of the high court, pointed out the Supreme Court is unable "as a whole or as individuals" to advise or comment on matters of law submitted in letters and not properly brought before the court in a case in which it has jurisdiction.

Konchar Feb. 10 temporarily refused to turn over ballot boxes of precincts where the validity of some 52 ballots were questioned.

Ralph Patrick of Weirton, Republican, was declared winner of the sheriff's post over Lou Smoleski of Weirton, Democrat, following a ruling by the court concerning the ballots.

Konchar has maintained a Jan. 3 meeting of the commissioners and legal representatives of the candidates was "secret" because no public notice was given and the press was not notified, and he said the agreements reached about the ballots were improper.

The Supreme Court Clerk said the issue about which Konchar is concerned was not a part of the issues concerning the ballots which the court was formally asked to decide in February, "and accordingly, no answer may be given."

Singleton said, "The court has referred your letters of Feb. 10 and Feb. 25 to me for reply."

He explained the court's study of the case and the laws involved, particularly the regulation requiring the endorsement of the poll clerks on ballots.

Singleton said the statute has

'Prayer Day' Set At Lisbon

LISBON — Local Church Women United will follow the theme "Growing Together in Christ" for the annual World Day of Prayer service at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the First Christian Church.

The program for international use was arranged by African women. As a feature locally, Mrs. Donald Lewis of the First United Presbyterian Church will play the guitar and sing verses of the African spiritual "Kim Ba Yah" at intervals during the service.

The Rev. Donald C. Bable, associate pastor and minister of education at the First United Methodist Church in Salem, will be the speaker.

Mrs. William Pannier and William Frew of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church will sing a duet. Mrs. Roy Welsh, organist of the host church, will be accompanist.

Also participating in the program will be Mrs. Forrest Lowry, First United Presbyterian; Mrs. William Haifley, Trinity U.P.; Mrs. Charles Pike, First United Methodist; Mrs. William Gibson, Simmons Chapel A.M.E. Zion; Mrs. Herbert Weaver, St. Jacob's United Church of Christ, and Mrs. Allan Martin, West Beaver United Presbyterian.

Mrs. Raymond Marlatt of the host church is chairman. She said the offering will be used abroad.

350 Hear Bettis At Hanoverton

Warren Bettis, Columbiana County prosecutor, spoke to about 350 men, women and children during a recent meeting of the United Parent - Teacher Association at Hanoverton.

He emphasized the problems of safeguarding children from the menace of molesters and deviates.

After the group viewed the film "The Child Molester," Bettis conducted a question - and - answer session. He noted that although United is a rural school, "the community needs to be greatly concerned and unite for the safety of the children."

He offered helpful precautions against strangers and pointed out that parents should understand that it is a duty to teach children such precautionary measures, beginning at the preschool age.

Chief Cites Youth, 16, After Lisbon Collision

LISBON — Cars driven by Richard A. Davis, 16, of Louisville RD 1 and Mark A. Cook, 17, of 301 W. Washington St., collided at 3:40 p. m. Monday at the intersection of Jefferson St. and E. Lincoln Way.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt referred Davis to Juvenile Court. He said the boy was driving east on Lincoln Way (U.S. Route 30), ran through the red light and struck the right side of the Cook car, southbound on Jefferson. No one was injured.

Council Gets Revised Plan At Industry

William Ralph, Council liaison man for the Industry planning commission, distributed corrected copies of the proposed subdivision ordinance at a meeting of the Borough Council Wednesday.

Members are to study the copies and return them before the March 24 meeting of the Planning Commission when it will review them and set the date for a public hearing on the ordnance.

Councilman Tom Hanner reported on the February meeting of the Western Beaver County recreational Board. He was named vice chairman of the board.

Councilman Jim Muns reported 153 tons of slag have been put on the roads for temporary spring repairs. The borough secretary was authorized to advertise for bids for road oil.

Chief of Police Ray Hendershot gave the Mayor's report which included 10 complaints, two accidents, one arrest and 1,845 miles logged on the cruiser. Bills totaling $2,168 were paid. The next meeting will be April 2.

4 Given Awards In Distributive Class Contests

Four members of the East Liverpool Distributive Education class won awards during district competition at Zanesville Wednesday.

Joseph Smith is vocational instructor for the class.

Sherry Tyson placed second in the "sweetheart" competition and qualified to participate in the state contest March 28-29 at Columbus. She received a silver medal.

To qualify, Sherry did modeling, took an hour-long written test on grooming, etiquette and distributive education and had a personal interview in which she was judged on poise and personality. Sherry works at the Thoroughfare Market as a cashier under the distributive education program.

Bill Mays placed third in the sales demonstration contest, Tim Ward third in the job interview contest and Cathy McCain third in the free enterprise contest. Each received bronze medals.

Other contestants were Marlene Young in display competition and Tom Deem in business math.

Store Employes Due District Plaque Award

The three employes of the S. & H. Green Stamp redemption center of 600 Walnut St. are scheduled to receive a special honor at a dinner at Pittsburgh later this year.

The store, for which Mrs. Jacqueline Varner is manager, was selected as the "Store of the Year" for the Pittsburgh II District, according to David A. Foster, regional operations manager. In 1967 the store received a district customer service award for which a plaque was presented.

Foster said a permanent plaque will be awarded for the 1968 citation was based on operational performance and service.

Vietnam

tack on Saigon since the Viet Cong offensive began Feb. 25.

Informed sources said the U.S. Air Force and Navy had a variety of plans ready for retaliation and could resume the bombing of North Vietnam in less than 24 hours if Nixon told them to. But the President indicated Tuesday night he would make no decision until he got a report from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, due in Saigon later today.

Seven 100 - pound Russian rockets hit the city and three of the six-foot missiles did the devastation.

They landed in the Fourth Precinct, an area of teeming slums and warehouses just south of a river. Sixteen persons were killed by two of the rockets that fell about 100 yards apart in a thickly populated section of wood and tin shanties. Three others were killed by another rocket that crashed through two floors of their house a few blocks away, and not far from where a rocket killed eight people last Monday.

At least 17 homes crumbled, and some of them went up in flames.

Saigon's central hospital was a scene of tragic bedlam as the dead and wounded poured in. Women holding bloodstained, wounded babies stormed the foyer, hysterically seeking treatment from the 10 doctors overwhelmed with wounded. The corpse of one woman was taken from a taxi, a dead child held tight in her arms.

The enemy gunners are believed trying to hit government buildings in and around downtown Saigon, but the rockets are saturation missiles that can't be aimed accurately. Three of the barrages have apparently fallen short and slammed into the crowded slums of the Fourth Precinct.

Elsewhere, some 35 other towns and allied bases were hit by rocket and mortar attacks during the night, a slight increase in the tempo of shelling for the past few days.

Among the targets were headquarters bases of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and 1st Air Cavalry Division and two brigade camps of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said total casualties and damage were light, but several helicopters were damaged in the shelling of the Air Cavalry headquarters 4 miles north of Saigon.

Levies

instructed the board clerk Kathryn Liebschner, to contact the Ohio attorney general's office at Columbus for a written ruling.

Brown said he believes there is a definite lack of communications somewhere if this bill was passed and boards of education were not informed.

Brown said that the boards of elections also should have been informed of the law.

Kapp said the board of education has two alternatives: it can pass a new resolution asking that the renewals be put on the ballot as continuing levies or not put the levies on the ballot.

Supt. Paul Blair, out of the city today, could not be reached for comment.

Kapp further stated the wording of the 1-mill proposal also may have to be revised. According to the law as amended, repair and maintenance is current operating expense and cannot be specified for repair even though the board of education intends to use it for that purpose.

The board may choose to use it for this purpose, but it cannot be limited to this by the law, Kapp said.

Apollo

attacks early Wednesday. He later skipped lunch and said he did not feel up to par.

The rookie spaceman had planned to leave the hatch of the lunar module and move hand-over-hand on railings to enter the hatch of the command module, joining Scott. After a brief rest, he was to have rejoined McDivitt in the still-attached LEM.

Schweickart's suit and back pack are identical to those astronauts will wear on the moon, and officials want to test them on Apollo 9 before committing men to a lunar landing.

Christopher C. Kraft Jr., director of flight operations, said the space walk was not essential to a moon landing.

The purpose of assigning it to Schweickart was to demonstrate that man can transfer from the LEM to the command ship in case of an emergency.

Kraft said it was more important to have the crew rested for a critical rendezvous and docking Friday.

McDivitt and Schweickart are to separate the LEM, fly 109 miles away and then seek out Scott in the command ship. They will thus maneuver like the two astronauts who will launch themselves from the moon to rejoin the mother ship in lunar orbit.

Their overnight rest period lasted nearly 10 hours until mission control roused the astronauts a few minutes before 6 a.m. EST to start another work day.

"This comes mighty early, doesn't it?" a ground communicator remarked by way of greeting.

"Yeah—it's still dark outside, too," rejoined one of the astronauts, who at that point was passing over the mercury ship tracking station in the South Pacific.

Doctors were puzzled over Schweickart's nausea. He is an experienced pilot. But they said he had a history of a nervous stomach and that he had taken motion sickness pills before and after the launching.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, prescribed other pills to quiet his intestinal tract. Berry said there would be a danger of suffocation if Schweickart became ill and vomited in his pressure suit during a space walk.

Despite the illness, Schweickart was able to perform complex tasks in the LEM for more than seven hours Wednesday.

Officials reported all systems in the spider-like craft functioned perfectly, including a six-minute firing of the engine designed to brake a later LEM to a lunar landing.

As the astronauts bedded down Wednesday night, ground control radioed congratulations on their checkout of the LEM.

"Everybody down here is happy with the way the day has gone and wants to congratulate you for an outstanding job," the message read.

Thefts

car owned by the Eason Insurance Agency of E. 4th St., taken from an E. 4th St. parking lot on Feb. 17 and recovered later on a road near Park Way; an auto owned by Charles Hicks of East Liverpool, taken Feb. 28 from the City Hospital parking lot and later found on the Irish Ridge Rd., and the car of Martha Little of Wellsville, stolen from the Loblaw Market lot on Bradshaw Ave. Monday and found a few hours later near Hollow Rock in Jefferson County.

In each instance, the boy said, he skipped school and then walked around looking for a parked auto that would be comparatively easy to steal. The cars he took either were left with keys in the ignition or with the switch unlocked so that it could be manipulated without a key. Each theft occurred between noon and 3 p.m.

Officers said they previously had received a partial description of the suspected thief and it matched the 14-year-old. Det. William A. Devon first talked to the youth at school yesterday and then he and Juvenile Officer K. J. Montgomery continued the interrogation at City Hall, obtaining a statement from the boy.

Officers said they are investigating the possibility another boy was involved in at least one of the thefts.

Prisoner Upheld In Appeal Bid By District Court

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday in favor of a Columbiana County prisoner in the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield.

The tribunal sustained a motion of Charles L. Fulton, 21, of Mount Vernon for leave to appeal from the action of Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp, who overruled Fulton's motion for vacation of sentence Oct. 23.

Fulton received 1 to 15 years last May after his conviction on a charge of burglary last March 3 at Ivan's Exchange in Salem.

Petitioning the court for release, Fulton alleged false arrest, illegal search and the admission of unsworn testimony.

The Appellate Court also sustained Fulton's motion that he be permitted to proceed as a pauper and directed the clerk of courts to prepare a transcript of the docket and journal entries and original pleadings.

In two cases captioned Fred L. Rayl doing business as Rayl's Market of East Liverpool, appellant, vs. the Liquor Control Commission, the Court of Appeals sustained a motion of the Department of Liquor Control to reduce Rayl's appeal on questions of law and fact to appeal on questions of law only. Rayl has 30 days to file a bill of exceptions.

Cuba Reveals Arrest Of Airplane Hijacker

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba announced for the first time today the arrest of an air hijacker but it gave no indication he would be returned to the United States.

Up to now, the government had remained silent as to the disposition of persons who force planes to Cuba.

It said he is Anthony Garnet Bryant. It added he had been arrested in the United States for robbery and traffic in drugs.

M-M-M-M... setting's perfect! and so is the Bigelow Carpet

When it comes to blissful comfort, nothing compares with a Bigelow. That's because Bigelow puts a little more creative care into their styling. They're a little pickier about choosing colors that ring pure and true. And they give a little more thought to the way their carpet feels. Vietnam

tack on Saigon since the Viet Cong offensive began Feb. 25.

Informed sources said the U.S. Air Force and Navy had a variety of plans ready for retaliation and could resume the bombing of North Vietnam in less than 24 hours if Nixon told them to. But the President indicated Tuesday night he would make no decision until he got a report from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, due in Saigon later today.

Seven 100 - pound Russian rockets hit the city and three of the six-foot missiles did the devastation.

They landed in the Fourth Precinct, an area of teeming slums and warehouses just south of a river. Sixteen persons were killed by two of the rockets that fell about 100 yards apart in a thickly populated section of wood and tin shanties. Three others were killed by another rocket that crashed through two floors of their house a few blocks away, and not far from where a rocket killed eight people last Monday.

At least 17 homes crumbled, and some of them went up in flames.

Saigon's central hospital was a scene of tragic bedlam as the dead and wounded poured in. Women holding bloodstained, wounded babies stormed the foyer, hysterically seeking treatment from the 10 doctors overwhelmed with wounded. The corpse of one woman was taken from a taxi, a dead child held tight in her arms.

The enemy gunners are believed trying to hit government buildings in and around downtown Saigon, but the rockets are saturation missiles that can't be aimed accurately. Three of the barrages have apparently fallen short and slammed into the crowded slums of the Fourth Precinct.

Elsewhere, some 35 other towns and allied bases were hit by rocket and mortar attacks during the night, a slight increase in the tempo of shelling for the past few days.

Among the targets were headquarters bases of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and 1st Air Cavalry Division and two brigade camps of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said total casualties and damage were light, but several helicopters were damaged in the shelling of the Air Cavalry headquarters 4 miles north of Saigon.

Levies

instructed the board clerk Kathryn Liebschner, to contact the Ohio attorney general's office at Columbus for a written ruling.

Brown said he believes there is a definite lack of communications somewhere if this bill was passed and boards of education were not informed.

Brown said that the boards of elections also should have been informed of the law.

Kapp said the board of education has two alternatives: it can pass a new resolution asking that the renewals be put on the ballot as continuing levies or not put the levies on the ballot.

Supt. Paul Blair, out of the city today, could not be reached for comment.

Kapp further stated the wording of the 1-mill proposal also may have to be revised. According to the law as amended, repair and maintenance is current operating expense and cannot be specified for repair even though the board of education intends to use it for that purpose.

The board may choose to use it for this purpose, but it cannot be limited to this by the law, Kapp said.

Apollo

attacks early Wednesday. He later skipped lunch and said he did not feel up to par.

The rookie spaceman had planned to leave the hatch of the lunar module and move hand-over-hand on railings to enter the hatch of the command module, joining Scott. After a brief rest, he was to have rejoined McDivitt in the still-attached LEM.

Schweickart's suit and back pack are identical to those astronauts will wear on the moon, and officials want to test them on Apollo 9 before committing men to a lunar landing.

Christopher C. Kraft Jr., director of flight operations, said the space walk was not essential to a moon landing.

The purpose of assigning it to Schweickart was to demonstrate that man can transfer from the LEM to the command ship in case of an emergency.

Kraft said it was more important to have the crew rested for a critical rendezvous and docking Friday.

McDivitt and Schweickart are to separate the LEM, fly 109 miles away and then seek out Scott in the command ship. They will thus maneuver like the two astronauts who will launch themselves from the moon to rejoin the mother ship in lunar orbit.

Their overnight rest period lasted nearly 10 hours until mission control roused the astronauts a few minutes before 6 a.m. EST to start another work day.

"This comes mighty early, doesn't it?" a ground communicator remarked by way of greeting.

"Yeah—it's still dark outside, too," rejoined one of the astronauts, who at that point was passing over the mercury ship tracking station in the South Pacific.

Doctors were puzzled over Schweickart's nausea. He is an experienced pilot. But they said he had a history of a nervous stomach and that he had taken motion sickness pills before and after the launching.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, prescribed other pills to quiet his intestinal tract. Berry said there would be a danger of suffocation if Schweickart became ill and vomited in his pressure suit during a space walk.

Despite the illness, Schweickart was able to perform complex tasks in the LEM for more than seven hours Wednesday.

Officials reported all systems in the spider-like craft functioned perfectly, including a six-minute firing of the engine designed to brake a later LEM to a lunar landing.

As the astronauts bedded down Wednesday night, ground control radioed congratulations on their checkout of the LEM.

"Everybody down here is happy with the way the day has gone and wants to congratulate you for an outstanding job," the message read.

car owned by the Eason Insurance Agency of E. 4th St., taken from an E. 4th St. parking lot on Feb. 17 and recovered later on a road near Park Way; an auto owned by Charles Hicks of East Liverpool, taken Feb. 28 from the City Hospital parking lot and later found on the Irish Ridge Rd., and the car of Martha Little of Wellsville, stolen from the Loblaw Market lot on Bradshaw Ave. Monday and found a few hours later near Hollow Rock in Jefferson County.

In each instance, the boy said, he skipped school and then walked around looking for a parked auto that would be comparatively easy to steal. The cars he took either were left with keys in the ignition or with the switch unlocked so that it could be manipulated without a key. Each theft occurred between noon and 3 p.m.

Officers said they previously had received a partial description of the suspected thief and it matched the 14-year-old. Det. William A. Devon first talked to the youth at school yesterday and then he and Juvenile Officer K. J. Montgomery continued the interrogation at City Hall, obtaining a statement from the boy.

Officers said they are investigating the possibility another boy was involved in at least one of the thefts.

Prisoner Upheld In Appeal Bid By District Court

LISBON — The Seventh District Court of Appeals ruled Tuesday in favor of a Columbiana County prisoner in the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield.

The tribunal sustained a motion of Charles L. Fulton, 21, of Mount Vernon for leave to appeal from the action of Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp, who overruled Fulton's motion for vacation of sentence Oct. 23.

Fulton received 1 to 15 years last May after his conviction on a charge of burglary last March 3 at Ivan's Exchange in Salem.

Petitioning the court for release, Fulton alleged false arrest, illegal search and the admission of unsworn testimony.

The Appellate Court also sustained Fulton's motion that he be permitted to proceed as a pauper and directed the clerk of courts to prepare a transcript of the docket and journal entries and original pleadings.

In two cases captioned Fred L. Rayl doing business as Rayl's Market of East Liverpool, appellant, vs. the Liquor Control Commission, the Court of Appeals sustained a motion of the Department of Liquor Control to reduce Rayl's appeal on questions of law and fact to appeal on questions of law only. Rayl has 30 days to file a bill of exceptions.

Cuba Reveals Arrest Of Airplane Hijacker

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba announced for the first time today the arrest of an air hijacker but it gave no indication he would be returned to the United States.

Up to now, the government had remained silent as to the disposition of persons who force planes to Cuba.

It said he is Anthony Garnet Bryant. It added he had been arrested in the United States for robbery and traffic in drugs.

Little Optimism In Middle East

President Nixon, in his report to the American people Tuesday night, expressed the least amount of optimism regarding a settlement of the Middle Esst dispute.

Judging from statements made by Mrs. Golda Meir, apparent heir to the Israeli premiership, the President had little cause to be optimistic.

MRS. MEIR, whose background is international and whose policy is expected to be tough and unbending, talks very pragmatically.

She was born in Russia, worked as a schoolteacher in Milwaukee, emigrated to Israel at 23, lived on a collective farm and worked her way up through labor union activities to become director of Israel's housing program.

She served Israel as minister to the Soviet Union, minister of labor and as foreign minister for 10 years. Experience gained in these positions has provided her with a deep understanding of her nation's problems.

She has ruled out any chance of an acceptable solution to the Middle East conflict emerging from talks by the big powers.

Displaying her realism, she observed, "If Russia were capable of preparing a peace plan acceptable to us, and had enough influence on President Nasser to get him to agree, then they have enough influence on him to say 'For God's sake, sit down with the Israelis and make peace directly'."

Mrs. Meir poses the question: "How else can there be peace than by direct talks?" In support of her thinking, she has said: "You Americans got nowhere — maybe you'll get nowhere anyway — in Vietnam until Ho Chi Minh let his people sit down and talk with you."

ISRAELI'S WOMAN premier-apparent seemingly plans no change in the attitude of her nation toward its Arab enemies. And, as long as Russia continues to provide guns and ammunition for the Arabs, it seems unlikely that peace will be achieved in the Middle East.

Russian-American summit talks which might result in Russia stopping its export of war power to the Arab nations seems the only likely way in which peace could come to the Middle East.

Good Show!

Basketball fans in East Liverpool and Midland can be especially well pleased with the general characteristic of play on the hardwood this 1968-69 season.

The Midland Leopards showed continuing improvement throughout the period, and captured the Section 6 crown before going down to defeat at the WPIAL tournament at the hands of Mount Lebanon, directed by ex-Midlander Dick Black.

The Potters posted a 17-1 record in regular play, took the section tournament, and battle tonight in the district competition.

Romania—A Soviet Problem

Romania's election Sunday is being regarded by the present regime as an endorsement of the independent policy conducted by President Nicolae Ceausescu.

And, as such, it is bad news for Soviet Russia. For it will make it more difficult for the Kremlin to impose its will on Romania when there is no significant opposition to the Ceausescu government within the nation.

If Russia is to deny Romania independence within communism, as it has attempted to deny it to Czechoslovakia, then it must contrive some way of "legitimately" getting its troops onto Romanian soil or face world disfavor again, as it did in Czechoslovakia.

Typical of the feeling of the Romanian people was an election slogan which appeared in a newspaper, Scienteia: "We vote for the complete independence and continued sovereignty of Romania."

While the Romanian government, under President Ceausescu, has denounced the Soviet doctrine of limited soverignty of Communist nations, criticized the Soviet-led military intervention in Czechoslovaka and condemned military maneuvers by foreign armies in the territories of other states, still it has professed continuing friendship for the Soviet Union — but as equals.

This makes it more difficult for Kremlin leaders to justify any suppression of the comparatively small Communist nation.

Russia's dilemma is that if it does not maintain a control over its satellite nations, it faces the dismemberment of its empire just as surely as Great Britain did some years earlier.

'Peanuts' Version

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Since everyone is so confused about what is going on in Western Europe, I think the only way to explain it is in terms of the comic strip "Peanuts."

Try to imagine that Lucy is France. She wants to be the leader of the gang and her greatest pleasure is getting into everyone's hair.

Art Buchwald

Linus represents Great Britain and he keeps sucking his thumb and holding a blanket which says "Made in the U.S.A."

Charlie Brown, for obvious reasons, is the United States, and every time Lucy does something to him, all he can say is "Good Grief."

Shroeder, of course, is West Germany, and Snoopy is Italy.

LONG AGO, CHARLIE BROWN formed a baseball team called the NATO Defenders and Lucy played first base. But a few years ago she got mad at Charlie Brown, quit the team and made everyone get out of her yard. She also urged everyone else to quit, too. But the other members of the team refused because Charlie Brown had the only bat and ball that meant anything.

Lucy, Shroeder, Snoopy and the other kids have a club which they formed to sell lemonade to each other. Linus has been trying to join this club since it started but Lucy said she won't let him in until he gets rid of his "Made in the U.S.A." blanket.

Linus is deathly afraid to give up his blanket because if he did he might also have to give up this thumb sucking. Besides, Charlie Brown gave it to him for Christmas and he doesn't want to hurt Charlie's feelings.

Last week Lucy told Linus secretly that he could come into the lemonade club if he quite Charlie Brown's team. She proposed that Linus, Shroeder and Snoopy could be the leaders of the new club and the rest of the gang, instead of being equal partners, could become associate club members.

LINUS WAS HORRIFIED at Lucy's suggestion, so he told Schroeder, Snoopy, Charlie Brown and the rest of the gang about Lucy's proposal.

Everyone was furious at Lucy for what they considered a double cross. When Charlie Brown heard the proposal, he said "Good grief."

Schroeder said he could never leave Charlie Brown's team because there would be no one to protect him if the gang down the next street tried to steal second base.

Snoopy, who usually is very quiet, also thought Lucy's idea was a lousy one, and he had no intention of getting in the doghouse with Charlie Brown.

Lucy was furious with Linus for ratting on her and she denied she had ever made the proposal. She also indicated that Linus would never get into the lemonade club even if he he did give up his blanket, which Linus has no intention of doing.

Despite Lucy's French temper and desire to wreck Charlie Brown's team, Charlie still insists he wants to be friends with her and he keeps asking her to come back and play ball.

BUT LUCY WILL HAVE none of it. She says she'll only play if she's the captain and Charlie Brown sits on the bench. "I don't care if it is your ball and bat," Lucy said. "It happens to be my playing field."

Not long ago, Lucy got into trouble with her lemonade stand and she made much more lemonade than she could sell. Also her prices were so high that no one would buy it. So she immediately went to Charlie Brown and said, "You have to bail me out."

I know you're not going to believe this but good old Charlie Brown dug into his pocket, handed Lucy the money, and all he could think of to say was "Good Grief."

Letters To The Editor

I recently visited the clinic for alcoholism in Youngstown, Ohio. I thank God I was not there as a patient, but to visit some one very close to me.

Until this time, I did not know such a clinic existed. The time and work the doctor's and nurses devote to the human race is outstanding and remarkable.

Only now do I understand that alcoholism is a disease, just as is heart trouble and diabetes.

At the time of my visit, the age range was from 21 to 69, both men and women. These people are not "bums" as most of us think when we hear the term alcoholic. They are business men, millworkers, housewives, office workers and retired people, just ordinary people like you and me, except they have a very serious problem, and a strong will to help themselves. Without this will, the clinic's work is all but fruitless.

The doctors are very proud that only 35 per cent of the patients have to return. When you think that some of these people have been drinking (they always think it is socially) for 15-20 years, this is a very good percentage.

These people come away from the clinic with clear minds and a good understanding of the situation. Above all else, they have started on the way back to self respect, faith in themselves and a new understanding of the words, "God helps him, who helps himself."

Once again, I am thankful for the clinic and it's staff for their efforts.

CHESTER RESIDENT

'Shucks, She's Past The Moon, Now She's Going For Mars!'

VICTOR RIESEL

The Nixon-Meany Alliance

WASHINGTON — Well, it seems that Richard Nixon and George Meany (Mr. Labor himself) are going steady, and their romance may last right through the 1972 election.

Victor Riesel

This report truly is based on some political peepholing and not on what the rocklike, laconic chief of the union of unions is saying publicly.

He was asked if Sen. Muskie would make a good presidential candidate and Mr. Meany replied:

"I'm sure he would — along with others. I may even support Nixon in 1972. It all depends on what happens."

Though he said this at a public gathering to a room full of questioners, though he had tongue and cigar in cheek, he may well have meant it.

What's more important is what this powerful and generally unquestioned leader of 14 million workers is saying politically privately.

It has not, for example, been reported that behind the closed doors of the latest joint session of the movement's political administrative committee and the AFL-CIO Executive Council, he cut down sharply one national union leader who suggested that labor jump in and save the wrecked Democratic Party.

This happened during the Wednesday morning session on Feb. 19 in one of the Hotel Americana's conference rooms, during the high command's midwinter session in Bal Harbour, Fla.

THERE HAD BEEN a series of reappraisals of the 1968 presidential election and reports on the programming for the 1970 Congressional campaigns delivered by Mr. Meany and his political aide-de-camp, fire-breathing Al Barkan, head of the Committee On Political Education (COPE). Then the floor was opened for self-criticism and good and welfare.

Suddenly there arose the generally silent William Pollock, president of the Textile Workers Union. The time had come, said he, to come to the aid of the Democratic Party. He added that "we must reorganize the Democratic Party." He spoke of the need for rebuilding it after the disintegration of the state machinery almost everywhere.

Mr. Meany bristled. And in private, he is the roughest bristler of all. In effect, he said:

I have no intention of reorganizing anybody or anything. We are a labor movement. We are nonpartisan. I have no intention of getting involved in any party.

This, then, is his private inner sanctum posture. This is mighty different from his public position assumed when he says, "I wish we had more Republicans to endorse."

WHEN THE LABOR CHIEF says it to his own people behind closed doors, and when it rips out spontaneously, it is the formulation of labor's policy.

Therefore, this is to be interpreted not as a momentary outburst, but as the reflection of Mr. Meany's hostility toward the front-running Democratic Party leaders.

It was Mr. Meany who almost alone swung Hubert Humphrey into the campaign and then held the line (along with the labor men now known as the Loyal Order of Buffalo) at the Chicago convention. It was COPE, chaired by Mr. Meany, whose splendid, well-financed, high-geared computerized campaign almost won for Mr. Humphrey.

Mr. Meany and some of his intimate colleagues believe Mr. Humphrey's defeat resulted not alone from the McCarthy assault, but also from the lethargy of men supposedly in the Humphrey camp. Now those very men, as the labor chiefs see it, are attempting to reform and reorganize the party.

There is no great fraternal sentiment inside labor for such men — Sen. McGovern, the auto union's bearded Paul Schrade, or even Sen. Ted Kennedy — though the union chiefs mostly are fond of the man from Massachusetts.

"It's not Ted, it's those around him, such as Schrade and Schlesinger whom he'll bring in," says one of labor's inner circle of high policy makers.

"THERE'S MORE THAN a matter of domestic policy. Few outsiders realize how important foreign affairs are to us and how strongly 'the old boy' feels about international relations. We're a lot closer to Dick Nixon on foreign policy than we are to the Democratic Party's reorganizers."

So apparently, the Democratic National Committee will have to do without Mr. Meany's backing. This doesn't mean that COPE will sit this one out. It has launched its 1970 campaign to reelect 21 liberal senators and to attempt to defeat New York's Republican Sen. Goodell — probably with Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. (Mr. Goodell succeeded the late Robert Kennedy.)

COPE plans to spend about a million dollars this year on registration alone. And another million next year. This in addition to the actual campaigning "for our liberal friends who have stayed with us through all our crises, like 14B . . ."

But Mr. Meany — and that means the AFL-CIO — isn't tying the movement to any party. He's not about to permit himself to be taken for granted. Nor will he take for granted that the Republican White House is automatically out. He likes Mr. Nixon's noninterference policy (no official public move into the dock strike, for example).

And the labor leader knows, as he predicted privately to some friends the other day, there will be no legislation urged by Mr. Nixon which the movement believes restrictive.

So, for what it's worth to the new administration and "the movement," they're going steady.

DAVID LAWRENCE

NATO's Role: Quick Response

WASHINGTON — Few people realize that if East German or Soviet troops attack West Berlin — which is occupied by and under the jurisdiction of American, British and French forces — the United States would be bound to send its armed forces instantly to repel the aggression.

There would be no necessity for action by Congress because the North Atlantic Treaty already obligates the United States immediately to resist such an attack on the German people.

Within the last month, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has appointed a special subcommittee to examine America's "military commitments" abroad. No hint has been given as to whether the inquiry could have a bearing on the future of the North Atlantic Tready Organization, generally referred to as NATO.

THE TREATY WAS SIGNED by President Truman and ratified by the Senate. It became effective Aug. 24, 1949. One of its provisions says:

"After the treaty has been in force for 20 years, any party may cease to be a party one year after its notice of denunciation has been given to the government of the United States of America, which will inform the governments of the other parties of the deposit of each notice of denunciation."

The North Atlantic Treaty was originally ratified by Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Great Britain and the United States, and was later acceded to by the Federal Republic of Germany, Greece and Turkey.

Any of these 15 signatories now could formally announce an intention to terminate the treaty after Aug. 24 of this year unless it is revised. There are no indications that President Nixon intends to take such action.

In his recent address at West Berlin, Mr. Nixon said:

"No one should doubt the determination of the United States to live up to its obligations. For more than a generation, we have pledged American lives to an ideal and a reality: that Berlin shall be free and that Berlin shall live. For its part, Berlin has remained steadfast.

"So have we — and steadfast we shall stay.

"The question before the world is not whether we shall rise to the challenge of defending Berlin — we have already demonstrated that we shall. The question now is how best to end the challenge and clear the way for a peaceful solution to the problem of a divided Germany."

The President at Brussels, now headquarters of NATO, spoke of the alliance as a "resouding success" and asserted that the old and the new world, working together, "have proven that the dream of collective security can be made a reality. He added:

"As NATO enters its third decade, I see for it an opportunity to be more than it ever has been before: a bulwark of peace, the architect of new means of partnership and an invigorated forum for new ideas and new technologies to enrich the lives of our peoples. . . .

"NATO was established as a preventive force — and NATO can be credited with the fact that while Europe has endured its share of crises in these past 20 years, the ultimate crisis that would have provoked a nuclear war has been prevented. Those nations that were free 20 years ago are still free today."

Certainly, in a nuclear age, the United States must be ready to respond immediately to any armed attack and there would be no time to go to Congress for a declaration of war. The treaty really amounts to an "advance consent" and means that the United States, at any moment, is obliged to defend its NATO allies when an attack involving them occurs.

WOULD THE SOVIET UNION embark on a course that would make necessary a military operation by the members of the North Atlantic Tready Organization?

The treaty specifically states that the action of NATO's signatories would be in conformity with Article 51 of the United Nations Charter, which permits any group of members to join together for collective self-defense.

Certainly an examination of America's commitments abroad would necessarily include the most comprehensive requirement of all — the obligation of the United States to defend, at a moment's notice, the people of any of the 14 countries in NATO.

She was born in Russia, worked as a schoolteacher in Milwaukee, emigrated to Israel at 23, lived on a collective farm and worked her way up through labor union activities to become director of Israel's housing program.

She served Israel as minister to the Soviet Union, minister of labor and as foreign minister for 10 years. Experience gained in these positions has provided her with a deep understanding of her nation's problems.

She has ruled out any chance of an acceptable solution to the Middle East conflict emerging from talks by the big powers.

Displaying her realism, she observed, "If Russia were capable of preparing a peace plan acceptable to us, and had enough influence on President Nasser to get him to agree, then they have enough influence on him to say 'For God's sake, sit down with the Israelis and make peace directly'."

Mrs. Meir poses the question: "How else can there be peace than by direct talks?" In support of her thinking, she has said: "You Americans got nowhere — maybe you'll get nowhere anyway — in Vietnam until Ho Chi Minh let his people sit down and talk with you."

ISRAELI'S WOMAN premier-apparent seemingly plans no change in the attitude of her nation toward its Arab enemies. And, as long as Russia continues to provide guns and ammunition for the Arabs, it seems unlikely that peace will be achieved in the Middle East.

Russian-American summit talks which might result in Russia stopping its export of war power to the Arab nations seems the only likely way in which peace could come to the Middle East.

Good Show!

Basketball fans in East Liverpool and Midland can be especially well pleased with the general characteristic of play on the hardwood this 1968-69 season.

The Midland Leopards showed continuing improvement throughout the period, and captured the Section 6 crown before going down to defeat at the WPIAL tournament at the hands of Mount Lebanon, directed by ex-Midlander Dick Black.

The Potters posted a 17-1 record in regular play, took the section tournament, and battle tonight in the district competition.

Midland's coach Ed Olkowski, East Liverpool's Clint McConnell, their staffs and the teams deserve congratulations for good, hard competition of unusually high caliber.

Romania—A Soviet Problem

Romania's election Sunday is being regarded by the present regime as an endorsement of the independent policy conducted by President Nicolae Ceausescu.

And, as such, it is bad news for Soviet Russia. For it will make it more difficult for the Kremlin to impose its will on Romania when there is no significant opposition to the Ceausescu government within the nation.

If Russia is to deny Romania independence within communism, as it has attempted to deny it to Czechoslovakia, then it must contrive some way of "legitimately" getting its troops onto Romanian soil or face world disfavor again, as it did in Czechoslovakia.

Typical of the feeling of the Romanian people was an election slogan which appeared in a newspaper, Scienteia: "We vote for the complete independence and continued sovereignty of Romania."

While the Romanian government, under President Ceausescu, has denounced the Soviet doctrine of limited soverignty of Communist nations, criticized the Soviet-led military intervention in Czechoslovaka and condemned military maneuvers by foreign armies in the territories of other states, still it has professed continuing friendship for the Soviet Union — but as equals.

This makes it more difficult for Kremlin leaders to justify any suppression of the comparatively small Communist nation.

Russia's dilemma is that if it does not maintain a control over its satellite nations, it faces the dismemberment of its empire just as surely as Great Britain did some years earlier.

'Peanuts' Version

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Since everyone is so confused about what is going on in Western Europe, I think the only way to explain it is in terms of the comic strip "Peanuts."

Try to imagine that Lucy is France. She wants to be the leader of the gang and her greatest pleasure is getting into everyone's hair.

Art Buchwald

Linus represents Great Britain and he keeps sucking his thumb and holding a blanket which says "Made in the U.S.A."

Charlie Brown, for obvious reasons, is the United States, and every time Lucy does something to him, all he can say is "Good Grief."

Shroeder, of course, is West Germany, and Snoopy is Italy.

LONG AGO, CHARLIE BROWN formed a baseball team called the NATO Defenders and Lucy played first base. But a few years ago she got mad at Charlie Brown, quit the team and made everyone get out of her yard. She also urged everyone else to quit, too. But the other members of the team refused because Charlie Brown had the only bat and ball that meant anything.

Lucy, Shroeder, Snoopy and the other kids have a club which they formed to sell lemonade to each other. Linus has been trying to join this club since it started but Lucy said she won't let him in until he gets rid of his "Made in the U.S.A." blanket.

Linus is deathly afraid to give up his blanket because if he did he might also have to give up this thumb sucking. Besides, Charlie Brown gave it to him for Christmas and he doesn't want to hurt Charlie's feelings.

Last week Lucy told Linus secretly that he could come into the lemonade club if he quite Charlie Brown's team. She proposed that Linus, Shroeder and Snoopy could be the leaders of the new club and the rest of the gang, instead of being equal partners, could become associate club members.

LINUS WAS HORRIFIED at Lucy's suggestion, so he told Schroeder, Snoopy, Charlie Brown and the rest of the gang about Lucy's proposal.

Everyone was furious at Lucy for what they considered a double cross. When Charlie Brown heard the proposal, he said "Good grief."

Schroeder said he could never leave Charlie Brown's team because there would be no one to protect him if the gang down the next street tried to steal second base.

Snoopy, who usually is very quiet, also thought Lucy's idea was a lousy one, and he had no intention of getting in the doghouse with Charlie Brown.

Lucy was furious with Linus for ratting on her and she denied she had ever made the proposal. She also indicated that Linus would never get into the lemonade club even if he he did give up his blanket, which Linus has no intention of doing.

Despite Lucy's French temper and desire to wreck Charlie Brown's team, Charlie still insists he wants to be friends with her and he keeps asking her to come back and play ball.

BUT LUCY WILL HAVE none of it. She says she'll only play if she's the captain and Charlie Brown sits on the bench. "I don't care if it is your ball and bat," Lucy said. "It happens to be my playing field."

Not long ago, Lucy got into trouble with her lemonade stand and she made much more lemonade than she could sell. Also her prices were so high that no one would buy it. So she immediately went to Charlie Brown and said, "You have to bail me out."

I know you're not going to believe this but good old Charlie Brown dug into his pocket, handed Lucy the money, and all he could think of to say was "Good Grief."

Letters To The Editor

I recently visited the clinic for alcoholism in Youngstown, Ohio. I thank God I was not there as a patient, but to visit some one very close to me.

Until this time, I did not know such a clinic existed. The time and work the doctor's and nurses devote to the human race is outstanding and remarkable.

Only now do I understand that alcoholism is a disease, just as is heart trouble and diabetes.

At the time of my visit, the age range was from 21 to 69, both men and women. These people are not "bums" as most of us think when we hear the term alcoholic. They are business men, millworkers, housewives, office workers and retired people, just ordinary people like you and me, except they have a very serious problem, and a strong will to help themselves. Without this will, the clinic's work is all but fruitless.

The doctors are very proud that only 35 per cent of the patients have to return. When you think that some of these people have been drinking (they always think it is socially) for 15-20 years, this is a very good percentage.

These people come away from the clinic with clear minds and a good understanding of the situation. Above all else, they have started on the way back to self respect, faith in themselves and a new understanding of the words, "God helps him, who helps himself."

Once again, I am thankful for the clinic and it's staff for their efforts.

'Shucks, She's Past The Moon, Now She's Going For Mars!'

VICTOR RIESEL

The Nixon-Meany Alliance

WASHINGTON — Well, it seems that Richard Nixon and George Meany (Mr. Labor himself) are going steady, and their romance may last right through the 1972 election.

Victor Riesel

This report truly is based on some political peepholing and not on what the rocklike, laconic chief of the union of unions is saying publicly.

He was asked if Sen. Muskie would make a good presidential candidate and Mr. Meany replied:

"I'm sure he would — along with others. I may even support Nixon in 1972. It all depends on what happens."

Though he said this at a public gathering to a room full of questioners, though he had tongue and cigar in cheek, he may well have meant it.

What's more important is what this powerful and generally unquestioned leader of 14 million workers is saying politically privately.

It has not, for example, been reported that behind the closed doors of the latest joint session of the movement's political administrative committee and the AFL-CIO Executive Council, he cut down sharply one national union leader who suggested that labor jump in and save the wrecked Democratic Party.

This happened during the Wednesday morning session on Feb. 19 in one of the Hotel Americana's conference rooms, during the high command's midwinter session in Bal Harbour, Fla.

THERE HAD BEEN a series of reappraisals of the 1968 presidential election and reports on the programming for the 1970 Congressional campaigns delivered by Mr. Meany and his political aide-de-camp, fire-breathing Al Barkan, head of the Committee On Political Education (COPE). Then the floor was opened for self-criticism and good and welfare.

Suddenly there arose the generally silent William Pollock, president of the Textile Workers Union. The time had come, said he, to come to the aid of the Democratic Party. He added that "we must reorganize the Democratic Party." He spoke of the need for rebuilding it after the disintegration of the state machinery almost everywhere.

Mr. Meany bristled. And in private, he is the roughest bristler of all. In effect, he said:

I have no intention of reorganizing anybody or anything. We are a labor movement. We are nonpartisan. I have no intention of getting involved in any party.

This, then, is his private inner sanctum posture. This is mighty different from his public position assumed when he says, "I wish we had more Republicans to endorse."

WHEN THE LABOR CHIEF says it to his own people behind closed doors, and when it rips out spontaneously, it is the formulation of labor's policy.

Therefore, this is to be interpreted not as a momentary outburst, but as the reflection of Mr. Meany's hostility toward the front-running Democratic Party leaders.

It was Mr. Meany who almost alone swung Hubert Humphrey into the campaign and then held the line (along with the labor men now known as the Loyal Order of Buffalo) at the Chicago convention. It was COPE, chaired by Mr. Meany, whose splendid, well-financed, high-geared computerized campaign almost won for Mr. Humphrey.

Mr. Meany and some of his intimate colleagues believe Mr. Humphrey's defeat resulted not alone from the McCarthy assault, but also from the lethargy of men supposedly in the Humphrey camp. Now those very men, as the labor chiefs see it, are attempting to reform and reorganize the party.

There is no great fraternal sentiment inside labor for such men — Sen. McGovern, the auto union's bearded Paul Schrade, or even Sen. Ted Kennedy — though the union chiefs mostly are fond of the man from Massachusetts.

"It's not Ted, it's those around him, such as Schrade and Schlesinger whom he'll bring in," says one of labor's inner circle of high policy makers.

"THERE'S MORE THAN a matter of domestic policy. Few outsiders realize how important foreign affairs are to us and how strongly 'the old boy' feels about international relations. We're a lot closer to Dick Nixon on foreign policy than we are to the Democratic Party's reorganizers."

So apparently, the Democratic National Committee will have to do without Mr. Meany's backing. This doesn't mean that COPE will sit this one out. It has launched its 1970 campaign to reelect 21 liberal senators and to attempt to defeat New York's Republican Sen. Goodell — probably with Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. (Mr. Goodell succeeded the late Robert Kennedy.)

COPE plans to spend about a million dollars this year on registration alone. And another million next year. This in addition to the actual campaigning "for our liberal friends who have stayed with us through all our crises, like 14B . . ."

But Mr. Meany — and that means the AFL-CIO — isn't tying the movement to any party. He's not about to permit himself to be taken for granted. Nor will he take for granted that the Republican White House is automatically out. He likes Mr. Nixon's noninterference policy (no official public move into the dock strike, for example).

And the labor leader knows, as he predicted privately to some friends the other day, there will be no legislation urged by Mr. Nixon which the movement believes restrictive.

So, for what it's worth to the new administration and "the movement," they're going steady.

NATO's Role: Quick Response

WASHINGTON — Few people realize that if East German or Soviet troops attack West Berlin — which is occupied by and under the jurisdiction of American, British and French forces — the United States would be bound to send its armed forces instantly to repel the aggression.

There would be no necessity for action by Congress because the North Atlantic Treaty already obligates the United States immediately to resist such an attack on the German people.

Within the last month, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has appointed a special subcommittee to examine America's "military commitments" abroad. No hint has been given as to whether the inquiry could have a bearing on the future of the North Atlantic Tready Organization, generally referred to as NATO.

THE TREATY WAS SIGNED by President Truman and ratified by the Senate. It became effective Aug. 24, 1949. One of its provisions says:

"After the treaty has been in force for 20 years, any party may cease to be a party one year after its notice of denunciation has been given to the government of the United States of America, which will inform the governments of the other parties of the deposit of each notice of denunciation."

The North Atlantic Treaty was originally ratified by Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Great Britain and the United States, and was later acceded to by the Federal Republic of Germany, Greece and Turkey.

Any of these 15 signatories now could formally announce an intention to terminate the treaty after Aug. 24 of this year unless it is revised. There are no indications that President Nixon intends to take such action.

In his recent address at West Berlin, Mr. Nixon said:

"No one should doubt the determination of the United States to live up to its obligations. For more than a generation, we have pledged American lives to an ideal and a reality: that Berlin shall be free and that Berlin shall live. For its part, Berlin has remained steadfast.

"So have we — and steadfast we shall stay.

"The question before the world is not whether we shall rise to the challenge of defending Berlin — we have already demonstrated that we shall. The question now is how best to end the challenge and clear the way for a peaceful solution to the problem of a divided Germany."

The President at Brussels, now headquarters of NATO, spoke of the alliance as a "resouding success" and asserted that the old and the new world, working together, "have proven that the dream of collective security can be made a reality. He added:

"As NATO enters its third decade, I see for it an opportunity to be more than it ever has been before: a bulwark of peace, the architect of new means of partnership and an invigorated forum for new ideas and new technologies to enrich the lives of our peoples. . . .

"NATO was established as a preventive force — and NATO can be credited with the fact that while Europe has endured its share of crises in these past 20 years, the ultimate crisis that would have provoked a nuclear war has been prevented. Those nations that were free 20 years ago are still free today."

Certainly, in a nuclear age, the United States must be ready to respond immediately to any armed attack and there would be no time to go to Congress for a declaration of war. The treaty really amounts to an "advance consent" and means that the United States, at any moment, is obliged to defend its NATO allies when an attack involving them occurs.

WOULD THE SOVIET UNION embark on a course that would make necessary a military operation by the members of the North Atlantic Tready Organization?

The treaty specifically states that the action of NATO's signatories would be in conformity with Article 51 of the United Nations Charter, which permits any group of members to join together for collective self-defense.

Certainly an examination of America's commitments abroad would necessarily include the most comprehensive requirement of all — the obligation of the United States to defend, at a moment's notice, the people of any of the 14 countries in NATO.

Youth Injured As Horse Falls

A Lisbon area youth hurt when a horse fell on him was treated Wednesday at City Hospital along with four others.

Charles Jackson, son of Luther Jackson of 245 W. Washington St., suffered multiple contusions of the chest and legs when the animal fell while he was riding.

Treated were James Brown Jr., son of James Brown of 826 Princeton Ave., a laceration of the nose in a fall down stairs; Timothy Humphrey, son of William Humphrey of the Stagecoach Rd., a right temple injury when he fell on a pencil.

Sanity Hearing Seen For Perun

TORONTO — An examination to determine the sanity of Edward Paul Perun, 69, is expected, according to his defense attorney, former Jefferson County Judge Michael Button. Perun is being held in the county jail at Steubenville in connection with the death of his daughter Teresa Feb. 25.

Button, said he has not yet discussed the matter with his client and doesn't know if Perun would be sent to Lima State Hospital before or after Grand Jury action.

Perun is being held on a first degree murder charge in the throat - slashing death of his daughter, 33.

Prosecutor Dominick Olivito said he will request a sanity hearing for Perun if Button fails to do so.

W. Va. Legislature Expected To Act On Labor, Pay Bills

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Legislature, now in its 58th day of a 60-day session, was expected to consider today bills that would create a state labor relations law and would put a legislative pay increase on the 1970 general election ballot.

A proclamation was issued Wednesday by Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. that would permit the legislature to extend its sessions through Tuesday, if necessary, to pass the budget.

But the extra three days would be restricted to action on the budget and on supporting revenue measures.

MEANWHILE, the Senate was expected to vote today on a Constitutional amendment resolution that would provide for a legislative pay raise from $1,500 to $3,000 a year and a 60-day session every year.

A Senate-passed bill to take the soft drink tax revenue away from the West Virginia University Medical Center was killed by the House Finance Committee Wednesday.

The bill, which would have channeled the tax proceeds into the general revenue fund, was placed on indefinite postponement by a reported vote of 14-10.

Approximately $4.6 million is collected from the penny-a-bottle tax each year.

In other legislative developments:

THE Senate approved a coal mine safety bill that establishes new requirements for mapping mines aimed at minimizing the chance of recurrence of an accident at the Homny Falls mine last year in which four men were killed. Under provisions of the bill, both professional engineers and certified land surveyors would be allowed to map mines. The bill was passed 32-1.

The House passed a bill authorizing the State Aeronautics Commissioner to provide grants for county, municipal and regional airports. The bill does not provide financing. Gov. Moore has asked for a $5 million appropriation for elimination of such hazards as one-way bridges on local service roads and for airports.

The House passed 60-31 a bill that would establish procedures for selection of a replacement in case of the death of a nominated candidate.

Under provisions of the bill, both professional engineers and certified land surveyors would be allowed to map mines. The bill was passed 32-1.

The House passed a bill authorizing the State Aeronautics Commissioner to provide grants for county, municipal and regional airports. The bill does not provide financing. Gov. Moore has asked for a $5 million appropriation for elimination of such hazards as one-way bridges on local service roads and for airports.

The House passed 60-31 a bill that would establish procedures for selection of a replacement in case of the death of a nominated candidate.

Auto Upsets; Man Injured, Driver Cited

A 24-year-od passenger was injured Wednesday night when an auto ran onto an embankment in East End and then rolled onto its side, police reported.

Austin Eastham of Ruth St. was taken to City Hospital after the mishap at 10:20 at Ruth and Lee Sts. that damaged a 1967 auto operated by Joseph Greathouse, 27, of 1623 St. George St., officers said.

Thrown from the car, Eastham was listed "satisfactory" with injuries to the left jaw.

Greathouse was cited on a charge of reckless driving by Patrolman Charles Coen, the investigating officer. The mishap damaged the entire right side, windshield and hood of the auto.

Greathouse told police he was driving west on Ruth St. and turned his wheels to the left to avoid a hole in the street. The car then went onto the embankment and rolled onto its right side, officers said.

Four autos were damaged in three other mishaps reported to police Wednesday.

A collision on Bradshaw Ave. 35 feet east of Walnut St. at 7:13 p. m. damaged the rear deck lid of a 1967 sedan driven by Benjamin P. Weber of 914 Alton St. and the front of a 1961 sedan operated by David L. Ryan, 16, of 401 Richardson Ave.

Weber was hated for a traffic signal on Bradshaw Ave. when his car was hit from the rear, officers said. Ryan told police he began to halt behind Weber, then noted that the light was changing to green. He eased up on the brake, but hit Weber's car before it began to move, he said.

A 1951 model dump truck driven by Bobby J. Cyphers of Chester RD 1 and a 1966 four - door sedan operated by Lawrence M. O'Tolle, 44, of Cleveland were involved in a collision Wednesday at 11:35 a. m. on E. 5th St. 75 feet west of Washington St., officers said.

Cyphers was driving west and O'Tolle was pulling from a parking spot, officers said. Damage was limited to the left front fender and bumper of the Cleveland car.

Meanwhile, a report was filed Wednesday on a mishap Friday night on Brightview Dr. in which an auto drifted from a parking spot and hit another car.

Lawrence A. Little of Annesley Rd. told police his auto drifted from a parking spot on a grade on Brightview Dr. and hit a parked 1968 auto owned by William S. Barlow of Brightview Circle. The mishap damaged the right rear door of Barlow's car.

The crane - type structure called a gantry is used to erect, assemble and service large rockets or missiles. It may be placed directly over the launching site and rolled away just before firing.

243 Get X-Rays At Mobile Unit

The X-ray bus sponsored by the Columbiana County Community Action Agency and the county Public Health League gave free chest X-rays to 243 adults Wednesday outside the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 1032 Pennsylvania Ave.

The unit will be at the same location from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m. today.

Highlandtown area adults will be offered chest X-rays from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m.. Friday at the grange.

The unit will be at the Salineville IGA Market, 60 W. Main St., from 10 a.m. to noon and 2 to 4 and 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Bean Henderson, director of the CAA Community Center in East Liverpool, was in charge of the program here. Mrs. Anne King, director of the CAA Southern Community Center, will be in charge at Salineville.

Four More Ohioans Victims In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio soldiers, S. Sgt. Thomas V. Pilson of Bellefontaine and S. Sgt. George H. Riplie of Toledo, have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Wednesday.

Army Pfc. Frederick R. Ratliff Jr. of Columbus was switched from the list of missing to killed in action, while Army Capt. Howard T. Fox of Cincinnati was listed as having died not as a result of hostile action.

Berlin

ernoon they closed all roads in and out West Berlin, held up traffic to the city caught inside East Germany, and slowed up the processing of cars and trucks at the West German border.

It was the most serious infringement on Berlin access routes in years. But there was no report of any tampering with the air corridors used by the presidential electors to go to and from the city. That would have brought an immediate confrontation between the Russians and the Americans, British and French.

Some diplomatic observers said they thought Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin decided to put a damper on saber-rattling East German leader Walter Ulbricht so as to improve the climate for future negotiations with the Nixon administration.

For Berliners, accustomed to living in one of the flashpoints of East-West tension, it was a welcome letdown.

Equally surprising was the silence of the city's militant "extra-parliamentary opposition," which had threatened to prevent the election. Some 8,000 riot police around the election hall were left with nothing to do but try to keep warm on the winter day.

Heinemann, West Germany's justice minister, was elected to the largely ceremonial presidency on the third ballot, and the election took 8½ hours. He defeated Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder, a Christian Democrat, by a vote of 512-506.

States and their lackeys can save them from defeat," Kiem said.

"It is truly an illusion to want to achieve a position of strength on the battlefield and at the conference table when one has failed, as the United States has failed, in Vietnam."

Kiem accused Nixon of threatening to "make the Vietnamese people suffer the consequences of their struggle against aggression."

He said that as long as the United States continued its war effort, "the South Vietnamese population will continue to combat aggression in accordance with its perfect right to punish the aggressors wherever they may be and at whatever moment."

Kiem charged that President Nixon is intensifying the war "while pouring out honeyed words of peace." He said the U.S. president's threat of a response to the shellings represented "the words of an aggressor who does not wish to be punished."

As the delegations traded charges in the conference room, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky took off for Saigon, declaring that "if the North Vietnamese continue their criminal action against the Saigon population . . . I have no reason to return to Paris."

Ky is the coordinator of the South Vietnamese delegation to the talks although he does not attend the conference sessions.

"If the battle is resumed and intensified," Ky said, "my place is in combat and not around the green cloth."

He said he was returning to Saigon "to talk with President Nguyen Van Thieu abous measures to be taken in case the enemy continues his attacks." He added that he remains "optimistic and patient regarding the conference in Paris."

Ky came to Paris 10 days ago on his third trip in connection with the peace talks. This has been his shortest stay.

When he left Saigon 10 days ago, Ky said he would recommend a resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam if the shelling of South Vietnam's cities continued. He said the bombing could be done by the South Vietnamese air force if necessary.

been applied in many cases, and the decisions have held that it is the duty of the voter to see that the ballot is properly endorsed, otherwise the ballot is void.

"Therefore. . .the court could do nothing but declare the ballots which did not comply invalid. A careful reading of the opinion, which I suggest you do, should clarify the matter and set at rest any false charges that the court has rejected any valid ballots or denied any voter his right to vote."

Smoleski and his attorneys are seeking to open the ballot issue and Patrick and his attorneys are planning to petition higher court action to prohibit further efforts to change the results.

Group Files Petition With Supreme Court

The Committee on Voters Rights filed a petition Wednesday afternoon with the West Virginia Supreme Court protesting the invalidation of what it termed "honestly-cast ballots" in Precinct 32 during the Nov. 6 general election.

Miss Anita Porter of New Cumberland, chairman, said the petition was presented to Mrs. Virginia Lett, deputy clerk, in an attempt to have the high court reverse its decision concerning the invalidation of 301 ballots in the precinct in Butler District. The petition was prepared by Atty. Floyd Tarr of Weirton.

would have set his rate at $700.

The pending ordinance covers the last in a series of wage and salary boosts for city officials and employes.

The first legislation, enacted in early January, gave members of the police and fire departments immediate raises of 5 per cent, with a 6 per cent boost at the end of the first year and 7 per cent at the end of the second year.

Similar raises were granted to most other workers a few weeks later after Council negotiated with Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. Clerical worker and janitors were given smaller boosts.

The present legislation covers persons not listed in the earlier ordinances, primarily department heads and their assistants, some Health Department and Municipal Court employes, the dog warden, the assistant solicitor and the housing and zoning inspector.

Fire Equipment Will Be Bought

Plans have been made to purchase new equipment for two vehicles by Wellsville volunteer firemen.

Included will be tires and floor mats for the emergency wagon and pumper truck, Chief Charles Leatherberry said.

"Using Water Wisely" was the title of a film used in a training session during the meeting. It was screened by Chief Robert Lewis of the city department.

Leatherberry announced that a Columbiana County Fireman's Association session will be held March 19 at the West Point hall.

William E. Adams of 951½ Main St., Wellsville, was enrolled as a member.

An advanced fire school training program will begin April 1, the chief announced.

Woman Due Arraignment In Kidnaping

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Honduras-born Ruth Eisemann-Schier, the only woman ever to appear on the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted criminals, faces arraignment today on a charge of taking part in a Georgia kidnaping in which a college coed was buried alive.

Petite, 26-year-old Miss Schier was arrested Wednesday in nearby Norman as she worked as a car hop at a drive-in restaurant.

In Oklahoma City, U.S. Commissioner James Bullett set bail at 500,000 and continued the proceedings until 1:30 p.m. today after Miss Schier asked for a court-appointed attorney.

Miss Schier and Steven Krist, 23, are charged with the abduction of Barbara Jane Mackle from a Decatur, Ga., motel last Dec. 17.

Krist was captured last Dec. 22 after a widespread manhunt near Punta Gorda, Fla.

Miss Mackle, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mackle, was found buried but unharmed in a box about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta after an 86-hour underground ordeal.

The kidnapers had directed rescuers to the spot after Mackle, a wealthy Florida real estate developer, paid $500,000 ransom. Practically all of the ransom money was recovered.

Dist. Atty. Richard Bell of DeKalb County, Ga., said he would institute proceedings to have Miss Schier brought to trial as soon as possible.

Miss Schier, known in Norman as Donna Wills, was arrested after she applied for a job as a nurse at Central State Hospital in Norman. A worker in the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation's fingerprint division identified the fingerprints on her job application.

FBI agents converged on the restaurant and arrested the girl as she walked from the car hop section to greet a new-found boy friend, Clonnie Fox.

Her arrest surprised both her coworkers and the tenants of the apartment building in which she lived. Said one fellow tenant, John Ray:

"I thought she was a real upstanding Christian girl from a bad family situation. She's got my sheets and pillow right now."

Now They Know

Conkle Enrolled By Toastmasters

James Conkle was enrolled as a member of the Toastmasters Club Wednesday night at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Francis House received the bull-thrower award and Don Miller was named the most improved speaker. Ralph Hutchison was tabletopics master and Don Hancock chief evaluator. Speeches were given by Don Miller and James Buchanan.

Miller and Buchanan will take part in the area speech competition at the Travelers Hotel March 22. It will include representatives from Wheeling, Steubenville and Weirton.

James Cunningham, president, was in charge. Robert Frontz was toastmaster.

Woman Due Arraignment In Kidnaping

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Honduras-born Ruth Eisemann-Schier, the only woman ever to appear on the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted criminals, faces arraignment today on a charge of taking part in a Georgia kidnaping in which a college coed was buried alive.

Petite, 26-year-old Miss Schier was arrested Wednesday in nearby Norman as she worked as a car hop at a drive-in restaurant.

In Oklahoma City, U.S. Commissioner James Bullett set bail at 500,000 and continued the proceedings until 1:30 p.m. today after Miss Schier asked for a court-appointed attorney.

Miss Schier and Steven Krist, 23, are charged with the abduction of Barbara Jane Mackle from a Decatur, Ga., motel last Dec. 17.

Krist was captured last Dec. 22 after a widespread manhunt near Punta Gorda, Fla.

Miss Mackle, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mackle, was found buried but unharmed in a box about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta after an 86-hour underground ordeal.

The kidnapers had directed rescuers to the spot after Mackle, a wealthy Florida real estate developer, paid $500,000 ransom. Practically all of the ransom money was recovered.

Dist. Atty. Richard Bell of DeKalb County, Ga., said he would institute proceedings to have Miss Schier brought to trial as soon as possible.

Miss Schier, known in Norman as Donna Wills, was arrested after she applied for a job as a nurse at Central State Hospital in Norman. A worker in the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation's fingerprint division identified the fingerprints on her job application.

FBI agents converged on the restaurant and arrested the girl as she walked from the car hop section to greet a new-found boy friend, Clonnie Fox.

Her arrest surprised both her coworkers and the tenants of the apartment building in which she lived. Said one fellow tenant, John Ray:

"I thought she was a real upstanding Christian girl from a bad family situation. She's got my sheets and pillow right now."

Now They Know

Generation Gap Discussed At Church Women's Event

A panel discussion on the generation gap featured the meeting of the Women's Association of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in Memorial Chapel.

Mrs. William Sutherland, moderator, introduced the subject, which concerned mutual respect between adults and young people and what the community can do to interest the younger generation in making permanent homes here.

Panelists were William E. Kaiser, James T. Fortiner, H. James Allison, Miss Debra Beck, Miss Cynthia Fisher and Daniel T. Sisley.

Mrs. Leland Pittenger conducted devotions on "The Bible Talks To Us" and led a litany for Lent. Group singing was accompanied by Mrs. Douglas McConnachie. Mrs. Leonard Gamble led the prayer for missions in Iran and Idaho as listed in "The Yearbook of Prayer." The offering was received by Mrs. Harry George.

Mrs. Dale Thornton, president, led the group in repeating the purpose of United Presbyterian women.

An invitation was read from the Rev. H. Gene Toot to the Lenten prayer service March 19 arranged for the association.

Mrs. Lawson Mason and committee were authorized to purchase a bookcase.

Mrs. Willis Johnston Jr., sewing chairman, announced plans for project day April 8 at the church when a noon luncheon will be served by members of Miriam Miller Circle. She mentioned the need of yarn and scraps of material.

Plans for a book sale the week of April 21 at the Broadway side of the Carriage House was announced by Mrs. Allison, who also announced a rummage sale for May. She asked for volunteers for several wedding receptions.

Refreshments were served by members of Miriam Circle. The buffet table featured a white floral arrangement flanked by green tapers and St. Patrick's Day appointments. Mrs. James Stacey, circle chairman, poured at the silver service.

Mothers will be special guests at the next session May 6 when Mrs. Lester Hall will present a program entitled "The Bible Gives Us Song."

White Shrine At Wellsville Selects Its New Officers

Betty Gotchall was elected worthy high priestess of White Shrine of Jerusalem 21 of Wellsville Monday night in the Masonic Temple following a 6 o'clock coverdish dinner.

Other officers named are: Dorman Stock, watchman of shepherds; Ruby Roush, noble prophetess; Earl Roush, associate watchman of shepherds; Marguerite Wilson, worthy scribe; Doris Knepper, worthy treasurer; Wilma Mason, worthy chaplain; Mabel Richards, worthy shepherdess, and Isla Ferguson, worthy guide.

Installation will take place March 29 at 7:30 o'clock in the temple. All officers are to wear formal attire.

The dining room committee was Marguerite Wilson, chairman, Lavada McFadden, Doris Knepper, Dora Wilson, Stella Beech and Evelyn Calhoun. The tables were decorated with red roses and red nylon net. Favors were miniature poinsettias in small glass containers.

The West featured a water fountain, poinsettias, ferns and miniature red lights. The East was decorated with large poinsettias and the diamond emblem, along with peacocks "promoting perfect harmony."

Deputy Helen Bemis of District 13 was presented and escorted to the East. She complimented the officers for "their fine work" during the past year. Various committee reports were given and correspondence from the Supreme Shrine was read.

It's Chimney Tree

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — No one knows how it got there but a dwarf sycamore grows out of the chimney of the Ashland Oil & Refining Co. office. For nearly a decade the tree has flourished — its roots extending an unknown depth into dirt that has filled the unused chimney.

South Side Area News

GEORGETOWN — Mrs. Samuel Laughlin, president of St. Luke's Episcopal Church Guild, and Mrs. Kendig Laughlin, president of the WSCS of the Georgetown United Methodist Church, will preside at the tea service during a fellowship hour following World Day of Prayer Friday night at the Georgetown church.

The affair, co - hosted by the two churches, is being observed by the South Side Christian Community Fellowship Group. It will begin at 7:30, with the Rev. Gerald Palmer, the Rev. John Haney and the Rev. Howard Burrell participating.

Q.—How can I revive wilted lettuce?

A.—By washing carefully in a basin of water, to which a couple of tablespoons of vinegar or lemon juice have been added. Allow the lettuce to stand in this water for about an hour, then wash in cold water.

Q.—Is there anything I can do about a drinking glass that has acquired a nicked edge?

A.—Wrap a piece of "00" emery paper around the handle of a spoon, then rub this back and forth across the nick until you've smoothed it down.

Q.—What is an effective method of removing lint from dark cottons before ironing them?

A.—Rub quickly over the fabric with the "stickum" side of masking tape. Many other such easy-to-do hints are contained in my household manual.

Q.—How can I deal with ink spots on wallpaper?

A.—Touch the spots lightly with water, and apply a blotter, then treat with oxalic acid. If the color of the paper is affected, touch the spots up with water colors or crayon.

Q.—How can I make bottles and jars smell fresh?

A.—By pouring a solution of water and dry mustard into them and letting stand for several hours. Or, use a diluted chlorine solution, then rinse in hot water.

Q.—I have a high-crowned hat that dents too easily. Is there any possible remedy for this?

A.—You can give it extra reinforcement by spraying the inside of the crown with your favorite, quick - drying hairspray.

Q.—How can I remove rust stains from a garment?

A.—Cut a thick slice of lemon, place this directly on the fabric over the rust spots, then hold the material over the steaming spout of a boiling teakettle until the stains disappear.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Removing Tobacco Stains

DEAR HELOISE: Please help me. I am a heavy smoker and have nicotine stains on my fingers. My girlfriend doesn't like it.

Is there any way to remove the stains without sanding them off. I've tried just about everything to no avail.

RALPH EDMONDS.

DEAR RALPH: There is a way, and don't think it's sissy. It's not.

Go to your dime store and buy a little bottle of fingernail cutical remover. Pour some on a cloth or piece of cotton and rub away. Works every time.

Heloise

If the stains are very heavy and old, it may take one or two applications a day for several days.

In fact . . . why not let your girl friend do this for you?

HELOISE.

P.S. Bet she would.

DEAR HELOISE: When a wooden window rattles and is loose, put two thumbtacks in the groove where the window slides up and down. It will tighten it beautifully.

This is especially good in older houses.

MISTER RATTLE.

DEAR FOLKS: I have been trying out different brands of frozen pies lately and I have really got a laugh for you all.

I let them set out until the top crust gets soft, then use a fork and remove the edge so it will look homemade when it's served. How's that for a "homemade" idea?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Had a pretty sick kiddo with measles, and fluids were hard to get down. So I filled my teapot and let Ricky drink from the spout.

He loved it.

The top keeps out the dust and it's easier to drink from the spout while lying down.

Guess variety is the spice of life when you're sick.

MOTHER LOVE.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that many wash dresses I buy don't have eyelets in the belts, and therefore tear easily.

So I put eyelets in the belt before the dress is washed. (You can buy them at any dime store.) First I iron a narrow strip of iron-on tape to the back of the belt. Then I use a paper punch the size of the eyelet to make a hole through the tape to correspond with the original hole in the belt.

Put eyelet in according to directions on eyelet box.

It's well-worth the time and effort, as belts will last much longer.

MRS. D. BALL.

DEAR HELOISE: I made an inexpensive minnow net out of your wonderful nylon net and a bent coat hanger. Just tacked it on the wire with a heavy basting thread.

ZJ.E.C.

DEAR HELOISE: How does one remove the stickiness caused from cellophane tape? I am speaking about the new, dull, magic kind. I don't want to remove the paint, so can't use fingernail polish remover.

TEDDY MacBRIDE.

You won't believe it, but pure orange or lemon extract, found right in your kitchen cabinet, will do the job. Also works on chewing gum.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a pattern, I also buy a large filing envelope.

I cut the pattern envelope apart and paste the front and back pieces on the filing envelope.

The pattern fits into the filing envelope after use, and the envelope itself is much stronger than the one the pattern came in.

It works, and is flat and neat to store for later use.

Vesper Services Slated For Midland Serbians

Lenten Vesper services are being planned for the members of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church March 16 at 6 p.m. Priests of the area and guest priests will conduct the services.

The Very Rev. Dr. Milan Popovich, pastor of the St. Sava Orthodox Church of McKeesport, will deliver the sermon. The Peter Krstich choir of Steubenville will sing.

Following the services at 7:15 p.m., a fish and Bacalar supper will be served at the Serbian National Home. The Very Rev. Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the Midland church, will show slides and lecture on his trip to the Holy Land.

The Very Rev. Fr. Milorad Dobrota will also speak at the Serbian Orthodox Church in Aliquippa March 28.

Fr. Dobrota will lecture on the Holy Land and show slides at all parishes after the services, following the fish and Bacalar suppers.

Members of the Orthodox faith will celebrate Easter April 13, according to the Julian calendar.

Gebel Musa, in southern Sinai, is the traditional Mt. Sinai where Moses received the Ten Commandments, the National Geographic Society says. Scholars, however, have expressed doubt as to which of several mountains actually was the Biblical site.

Future Nurses To Hold Meeting

The Future Nurses of Beaver Local High School will meet March 18 in the school.

The group recently toured the City Hospital School of Nursing under the guidance of Mrs. Shirley Gilkes, acting director. They later had luncheon in the hospital cafeteria.

Mrs. Ruth Kaufman of the County Columbiana Health Department addressed the group during the February meeting.

She outlined the duties of a public health nurse and explained various health conferences, programs and clinics available.

Mrs. Virginia Torrence is one of the club sponsors.

Linen was the first woven material for clothing; wool probably was next.

Sirhan Claims He Appeared At Death Site By Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan says his presence at the hotel where he shot and killed Robert F. Kennedy was an accident—due to his mistaken reading of a newspaper advertisement the day of the slaying last June.

The advertisement announced a pro-Israel parade, the "Miracle March for Israel" marking the first anniversary of the six-day war between the Jews and the Arabs in 1968.

The parade was scheduled for the next day but Sirhán, a Jordanian-born Arab, testified at his murder trial Wednesday he thought it was that night.

He said upon reading the announcement "The fire started burning inside me" and he set off for downtown Los Angeles "driving like a maniac."

"Did you have in mind to shoot Kennedy at that time?" asked defense counsel Grant B. Cooper.

"No, sir, I did not," Sirhan said.

Sirhan said he had come from a rifle range where he practiced with his .22-caliber revolver, had a snack with a friend and read about the anniversary celebration.

"That brought me back to the six days in June the previous year," Sirhan said, his voice rising in anger.

The fire started burning inside of me, sir, at seeing how these Zionists, these Jews, these Israelis or whoever the hell they were, sir, were trying to rub in the fact that they had beaten the hell out of the Arabs the year before."

Sirhan said he parked his car and set out to find the parade. He wandered into the brightly lit campaign headquarters of Thomas Kuchel, a Republican seeking re-election to the U.S. Senate.

There was talk "that there was a bigger party down the street at the Ambassador," Sirhan said.

"Curiosity forced me to go down there," he said. On the way, he testified, he noticed in a store a Jewish organization sign.

"Again that got me boiling because the main reason for me to be on Wilshire Boulevard was to see the parade," Sirhan said.

His gun, at that time, was still in the back seat of his car a few blocks away, Sirhan said. At this point in his testimony court adjourned for the day at Cooper's request.

46 To Attend Workshop Of County 4-H

LISBON — Forty-six Columbiana County 4-H'ers 14 years and older will attend a winter workshop on "International Understanding" from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon at Camp Aldersgate on Leesville Lake.

As the keynote speaker Friday evening, Miss Bea Cleveland, state 4-H leader, will discuss the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program.

The speakers Saturday afternoon will be Sharon Cottrell and Brian Godden, both of New Zealand, who are attending United High School under the American field service program, and Ken Simmeral, Jefferson County 4-H agent who was an IFYE to Africa.

Anthony DePolo of Youngstown, a teacher at United School, will discuss unidentified flying objects Saturday evening.

The worship service Sunday morning will be conducted by Ralph Brumbaugh of Carrollton RD 2, a lay minister in the United Methodist Church.

Program arrangements were made by the Junior Leaders—older 4-H members. The campers will be accompanied by Gordon McDonald, county 4-H extension agent, and his wife Johanna, and Ann Riedel, county home economics agent, and her husband Jack.

Hearings Set Monday For 3 Cited Motorists

Municipal Court hearings are due Monday for three cited motorists. The defendants are:

Joseph A. Greathouse, 21, of 1623 St. George St., charged with reckless driving Wednesday night after a Ruth St. traffic mishap; Gerald A. Moore, 20, of Lisbon St., arrested Wednesday night on St. Clair Ave. on a speeding charge, and Thomas E. Sullivan, 27, of 2146 Michigan Ave., cited early Wednesday on Pennsylvania Ave. on charges of speeding and operating an auto without a driver's license.

Court sessions were suspended today and Friday because Judge Samuel M. Chertoff is attending a meeting of the North American Judges Association in Albuquerque, N. M.

Woody Hayes Will Speak At Banquet Here

Woody Hayes, head football coach at Ohio State University, Columbus, will be guest speaker during the annual banquet of the Southeastern Columbiana County Alumni Association.

The announcement was made during a board meeting of the association Wednesday night at the home of Bill Kozel of St. Clair Ave. Ext., president. The event will be May 8 at the Country Club.

In addition to the alumni members, parents of students attending the university and prospective members and their parents are invited to attend. Reservations, which will be mailed, may be made with any alumni board member.

East Fairfield News

Mrs. Chalmer Morris
227-3189

EAST FAIRFIELD — Members of the WSCS of the United Methodist Church are invited to take part in the World Day of Prayer meeting, Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Middleton Friends meeting house.

James Crook of Detroit was a weekend guest of his mother, Mrs. Martha Crook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Veon and Mrs. Mable Green of Darlington and Mr. and Mrs. John Veon of Monaca were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmer.

Sirhan Claims He Appeared At Death Site By Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan says his presence at the hotel where he shot and killed Robert F. Kennedy was an accident—due to his mistaken reading of a newspaper advertisement the day of the slaying last June.

The advertisement announced a pro-Israel parade, the "Miracle March for Israel" marking the first anniversary of the six-day war between the Jews and the Arabs in 1968.

The parade was scheduled for the next day but Sirhán, a Jordanian-born Arab, testified at his murder trial Wednesday he thought it was that night.

He said upon reading the announcement "The fire started burning inside me" and he set off for downtown Los Angeles "driving like a maniac."

"Did you have in mind to shoot Kennedy at that time?" asked defense counsel Grant B. Cooper.

"No, sir, I did not," Sirhan said.

Sirhan said he had come from a rifle range where he practiced with his .22-caliber revolver, had a snack with a friend and read about the anniversary celebration.

"That brought me back to the six days in June the previous year," Sirhan said, his voice rising in anger.

The fire started burning inside of me, sir, at seeing how these Zionists, these Jews, these Israelis or whoever the hell they were, sir, were trying to rub in the fact that they had beaten the hell out of the Arabs the year before."

Sirhan said he parked his car and set out to find the parade. He wandered into the brightly lit campaign headquarters of Thomas Kuchel, a Republican seeking re-election to the U.S. Senate.

There was talk "that there was a bigger party down the street at the Ambassador," Sirhan said.

"Curiosity forced me to go down there," he said. On the way, he testified, he noticed in a store a Jewish organization sign.

"Again that got me boiling because the main reason for me to be on Wilshire Boulevard was to see the parade," Sirhan said.

His gun, at that time, was still in the back seat of his car a few blocks away, Sirhan said. At this point in his testimony court adjourned for the day at Cooper's request.

Man Dies In Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — John E. Marshall, 69, perished early today when a fire destroyed a mobile home at a Toledo trailer park where he lived.

46 To Attend Workshop Of County 4-H

LISBON — Forty-six Columbiana County 4-H'ers 14 years and older will attend a winter workshop on "International Understanding" from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon at Camp Aldersgate on Leesville Lake.

As the keynote speaker Friday evening, Miss Bea Cleveland, state 4-H leader, will discuss the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program.

The speakers Saturday afternoon will be Sharon Cottrell and Brian Godden, both of New Zealand, who are attending United High School under the American field service program, and Ken Simmeral, Jefferson County 4-H agent who was an IFYE to Africa.

Anthony DePolo of Youngstown, a teacher at United School, will discuss unidentified flying objects Saturday evening.

The worship service Sunday morning will be conducted by Ralph Brumbaugh of Carrollton RD 2, a lay minister in the United Methodist Church.

Program arrangements were made by the Junior Leaders—older 4-H members. The campers will be accompanied by Gordon McDonald, county 4-H extension agent, and his wife Johanna, and Ann Riedel, county home economics agent, and her husband Jack.

Hearings Set Monday For 3 Cited Motorists

Municipal Court hearings are due Monday for three cited motorists. The defendants are:

Joseph A. Greathouse, 21, of 1623 St. George St., charged with reckless driving Wednesday night after a Ruth St. traffic mishap; Gerald A. Moore, 20, of Lisbon St., arrested Wednesday night on St. Clair Ave. on a speeding charge, and Thomas E. Sullivan, 27, of 2146 Michigan Ave., cited early Wednesday on Pennsylvania Ave. on charges of speeding and operating an auto without a driver's license.

Court sessions were suspended today and Friday because Judge Samuel M. Chertoff is attending a meeting of the North American Judges Association in Albuquerque, N. M.

In 1903, Andrew Carnegie donated $1.5 million for the building of the Hague Peace Palace in the Netherlands.

Woody Hayes Will Speak At Banquet Here

Woody Hayes, head football coach at Ohio State University, Columbus, will be guest speaker during the annual banquet of the Southeastern Columbiana County Alumni Association.

The announcement was made during a board meeting of the association Wednesday night at the home of Bill Kozel of St. Clair Ave. Ext., president. The event will be May 8 at the Country Club.

In addition to the alumni members, parents of students attending the university and prospective members and their parents are invited to attend. Reservations, which will be mailed, may be made with any alumni board member.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Violet A. Brown, wife of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, was scheduled to undergo vascular surgery today at Mount Carmel Hospital.

The coal reserves of Illinois are enough to supply the entire world for a century.

4-H News

Robin Jobe discussed "Safety at Home" when the Scottish Highlanders 4-H Club met Tuesday at 5:30 p. m. at the home of the adviser, Mrs. Arlene Lanam of Crews Rd.

Hugh Fraser demonstrated "How to Clean A Horse's Hooves." Kathy Lanam, president, conducted business and led devotions. Mrs. Lanam reported on a bake sale and plans were made to take a first-aid course.

Lunch was served by Tom Tippins and Robin Jobe. The next meeting will be March 18.

"Rabies, a Threat," was the theme when the Elwood 4-H Club met at the Jefferson St. School in Newell.

The group discussed the talent show to be held March 14 at Weirton. A trip to Pittsburgh in the near future is being planned.

Program participants were David Talbott, Andy Maymick, Mark Adams, Patty Allison, Jody Booher, Brenda Hupp, Terry Maymick, Debbie Stafford, Kathy Britton, Lisa Nally, Billy Renfro, Anne Lynn Cline, Patsy Talbott, Debbie Hupp, Fred Stafford and Judy Stewart.

Barbara Stalter of the 4-H office was a guest. The next meeting will be March 17 at the school.

Survivalship—A 'Game' For 2000

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

With resolutions made for 1969, keep the year 2000 in mind.

Resolve to foil the pessimistic predictions of scientific minds by playing a new game. Survivalship.

To hear some scientists tell it, Earthlings are finished at the turn of the century (at least that's the year they've latched on to). The land will be gone, trees will have disappeared and water (polluted) will have dried up, depending on which scientist you're beamed to.

Meanwhile, we will soon live in houses stacked one on the other, orange-crate fashion. (But they'll be designed by the very best architects!)

IF WE survive starvation, pollution, erosion and what not, in the year 2000 we may be bobbing in the briny deep in some sort of acquahouse, circling the globe in our family rocket or missile, living on one or another planet, or we may be underground putting graffiti on walls that may be lighted by mysterious forces emanating from our radioactive cholesterol-clogged bodies.

These mysterious bio-electronics may provide heat and permit us to grow food without daylight in our anhydrous state while the underwater set engages in aquaculture — sea-farming plankton, algae and other fishy goodies.

Meanwhile, the outer space crowd will no doubt have managed to bottle the mysterious particles in space that have intrigued astronauts, but the morsels may be rejected by weightless bodies.

Such predictions shouldn't deter you from proceding with plans for enclosing that porch or building that double-decker swimming pool. You'll have at least 31 years to enjoy it (one prognosticator gives you 50) before you choose your animal, vegetable or mineral existence under land, in sea or in the air.

Home owners can maintain their sanity in the face of conflicting scientific conjecture — by trying to beat the clock.

YOU HAVE three decades to prove they're wrong, and that's where the fun and games begin. Instead of collecting worrybirds, build your own survivalship. Here's How:

1.—Plant a tree somewhere every day. Anywhere. But preferably on your own land. Trees are good for food (nuts, syrup, fruit), wood (furniture, houses), clothes (paper—and it'll come in handy too, if someone manages to hold on to a printing press). Pine, oak, hickory, maple, cherry, fruits and walnut are good to plant. (Skip redwood —it takes 2,000 years to get a chaise lounge.)

2.—Bottle or can water every day and bury it where it won't dry. When you have filled one hole, begin another. If things go well, you would have lots of water holes against the day, and if everything remains status quo, it won't be a total loss—you can fill the holes with water and run a trout fishing farm.

3.—You might develop the knack of growing things underground and drying foods as the Chinese do. You can grow nutritious soybeans, mung beans, mushrooms and other vitamin-laden foods right in your cellar. Learn how to dry fish, poultry vegetables.

4.—Iron out your phobias. If you suffer from agoraphobia, get used to open spaces. Stroll on roofs and bridges whenever you get a chance. If you are a claustrophobic type, get used to living in cramped quarters. Take submarine rides. Or find someone with an air-raid shelter left over from The Last Big Scare, and see how long you can stay below.

5.—Build an either-way house. This is one that can go up or down. If it is to go up, you add additional stories, keeping the roof flat (for rocket launching or spaceship parking). If the base is built like the Eiffel Tower — sprawling with plenty of room under it to provide a canopy for an underground house — begin digging a few spadesful of earth a day. In three decades, you should have a fairly good size cave and with a bubble top, it may be livable and rentable.

When you have outlined your program for the year 2000, relax and begin your book, such as "Earthpeople: How we made it, in spite of. . ."

Any time you think that such endeavors are silly, refuel your imagination by visiting a library and reading the latest predictions about the upcoming decline and fall of that well-known planet.

Bags For Stamps

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A. Q. Quinn said he finally got tired of buying postage stamps and then later finding them all stuck together and useless. Quinn, 79, called on the postmaster and complained that the post office "is the only business I know that sells customers merchandise without a package to put it in." The result: All Memphis post offices now supply stamp purchasers with a plastic bag big enough to hold several 100 - stamp sheets.

Fund Appeal Chairmen Set At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — F. A. Strabley and Mrs. William Holmes have been named co-chairmen of the Red Cross fund appeal which will get under way here Friday.

Salineville is affiliated with the East Liverppol area chapter, but conducts its own campaign, the chairmen explained.

Strabley is the Salineville representative of the Red Cross and a member of the East Liverpool area chapter's board of directors.

Court Income Boosted $568

Municipal Court income hit $5,737 in February, a gain of $568 from January's $5,169, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The court paid the city treasury $5,099 out of the February receipts, a boost of $409 from the $4,690 the city was paid out of January revenue.

The city's share of the revenue was comprised of $426 in costs from civil cases, $4,402 in fines, costs and forfeits in criminal cases and $270 from penalties resulting from Ohio Highway Patrol citations.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $270 to the state treasury, $260 to the county treasury, $10 to Liverpool Township and $97 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month was $10,188, a drop of $19 from the $10,369 handled in January. The sums handled last month included $6,231 in the criminal branch and $3,956 in the civil branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 47 civil cases filed in February, 43 disposed of and 180 pending; 15 small claims cases filed, 18 disposed of and 13 pending; 80 city criminal cases filed, 79 disposed of and 112 pending, and 43 state criminal cases, 50 disposed of and 92 pending.

Auxiliary Plans Veterans Party

Plans to hold a bingo party for men at the Deshon Veterans Hospital, Butler, were made at a meeting of the Turkaly Richards Marine Corps Auxiliary meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Anthony McLean of Ohioville.

The party will be at 2:30 p.m. April 5.

Mrs. Merele Ware demonstrated home products for the group. Mrs. Freda Rice will represent the women at the quarterly meeting of the Veterans Administration at Butler March 19. She will distribute white socks and books to patients.

The auxiliary and the league will hold a combined "tag day" in Midland June 30 and July 1. The monthly prize was won by Mrs. McLean. The April 7 meeting will be held with Mrs. Elsie Engle of Neville Rd., Beaver.

Capt. Cook visited Tahiti in 1769 and Capt. Bligh, in the Bounty, in 1788, but exploration and trade were not the only lures of this South Sea island. The mysteries of its exotic flora and fauna brought Darwin to the island, while the search for the "noble savage" and his simple and natural life enticed Melville, Gauguin and Stevenson.

How Can I?

Q.—What can I do when loose brush bristles threaten to ruin the appearance of a varnish job on furniture?

A.—Tape a piece of screen wire against the container with a few inches of the screening extending upward. Wipe your brush across the end of the screen to remove loose bristles —thus insuring a smooth varnish job.

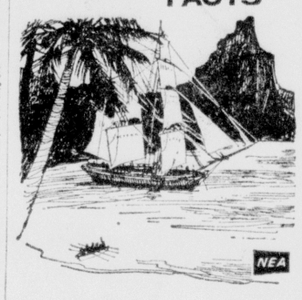
NEW DELHI (AP) — Thousands of sports enthusiasts were entertained by free style wrestling both inside the ring and outside the National Stadium. Professionals were wrestling inside the ring, but police were wrestling outside with a crowd trying to scale the wall or climb trees for a free show.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



Capt. Cook visited Tahiti in 1769 and Capt. Bligh, in the Bounty, in 1788, but exploration and trade were not the only lures of this South Sea island. The mysteries of its exotic flora and fauna brought Darwin to the island, while the search for the "noble savage" and his simple and natural life enticed Melville, Gauguin and Stevenson.

How Can I?

Q.—What can I do when loose brush bristles threaten to ruin the appearance of a varnish job on furniture?

A.—Tape a piece of screen wire against the container with a few inches of the screening extending upward. Wipe your brush across the end of the screen to remove loose bristles —thus insuring a smooth varnish job.

The Danish flag, consisting of a large white cross on a red field, is the world's oldest flag without a change. It dates from about A.D. 1218.

Nixon Delay To Be Sought On ABM Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Republican critic of the Sentinel (ABM) missile project says he will ask President Nixon to delay a decision on deployment of the so-called "thin" defense system until Congress can thrash out the controversial subject in fullscale debate.

"I am approaching this from the standpoint of one who is interested in supporting the President in his efforts to get negotiations under way with Russia which could make it unnecessary to build this costly system," Kentucky's John Sherman Cooper said Wednesday.

Cooper is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee and its disarmament subcommittee, one of several focal points for strong Senate opposition to deployment of the nuclear-armed, $5 billion ABM.

Cooper commented in an interview in advance of today's start of subcommittee hearings into the system. The subcommittee chairman, Democrat Albert Gore of Tennessee, is another outspoken critic of the Sentinel.

Amid clamorous public and senatorial criticism, Nixon halted deployment of the Sentinel several weeks ago pending full review.

He told a nationally televised news conference Tuesday night he would announce a decision on whether or not to go ahead with it early next week.

If, as expected, Nixon gives the go ahead for a modified Sentinel system and does not bow to Cooper's request for a delay, a Senate showndown may come by April.

Although prospects for the ABM's future are uncertain in the House, opponents are believed to hold a slim majority in the Senate.

Nutrition Workshops Slated For Dairymen

LISBON — Dairy nutrition workshops will be held March 11 and 18 at the Ravenna Masonic Temple and March 12 and 19 at Gary's Restaurant on Route 62 west of Alliance. All the sessions will begin at 10 a.m.

The speakers will be Dr. John Staubus, extension dairyman from Ohio State University; John Parker, area extension agent at Canfield, and a panel of dairymen.

Local dairymen may enroll not later than Friday at the County Extension Office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Americans monopolized the world's whaling industry during the 18th and 19th centuries, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Pentagon Due Bid For More F111 Models

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is preparing to ask Congress for money to buy at least 60 more models of the F111 fighter-bomber which has just suffered its 13th crash in 26 months, sources report.

The move is interpreted by Air Force officers and other officials intimately associated with F111 production as the Nixon administration's vote of confidence in the controversial aircraft.

Barring last minute budgetary revisions, about $500 million for the F111 program will go into the proposed fiscal 1970 defense budget expected to be forwarded soon to Capitol Hill.

The new buy will bring planned production of the supersonic F111 to around 400 planes. General Dynamics is already signed to turn out 331. And the Air Force may seek later this year to go far beyond 400.

Like other major weapons systems, the F111 project in recent days has been subjected to an extensive review by the new Pentagon team of Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

Air Force sources expect the F111 program to emerge largely intact from this dollar-cutting re-examination of defense programs inherited by the Republican administration from the outgoing Democrats.

Officials say the review has dealt with "cost-effective" questions about the plane rather than any technical problems which have been encountered.

The F111 accident rate and soaring cost problems have stirred criticism in Congress where Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., first secretary of the Air Force, is on record as calling for an investigation of the program and possibly its cancellation.

State Officer To Speak During Legion Dinner

Roger H. Myers Jr. of Worthington will be guest speaker during the 50th anniversary observance of the American Legion at Post 736 in Glenmoor Saturday night.

Myers, state finance officer for the Legion, served in the Army during World War II. For two years he was in the European theater, primarily with the Army Graves Registration Service in Paris.

He is a past member of Columbus Post 98 and Dayton Post 5 and is a member of Worthington Post 239. He attended West High School in Columbus and received a degree in business administration from Sinclair College in Dayton.

Prior to joining the Ohio Legion headquarters staff, he was an office manager for a Dayton painting contractor for five years and at one time held a similar position for 11 years with a bakery.

Myers' late father was a past commander of the Legion's 12th district in Franklin County and his mother is past president of the district's Auxiliary. His wife, three daughters and son all belong to legion organizations.

The affair will begin at 7, Comdr. Herman F. Langer said. Russell Turner, adjutant, will be master of ceremonies.

ROGER H. MYERS JR.
Will Be At Glenmoor.

Ruth McKenzie's band will play for dancing later.

Langer requests those planning to attend notify post officials. The dinner will be served by the post Auxiliary, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tullis of Marietta visited his mother, Mrs. Helen Tullis, a patient at Salem City Hospital, where she underwent recent surgery.

A reading, "The New Minister's Wife," was given by Mrs. June Elliott when the congregation of the Rogers United Methodist Church held a coverdish dinner and reception Friday night for the Rev. and Mrs. James McConnell.

Mrs. Elliott was in charge of the program and Gene Hidinger gave the welcome remarks.

Music was provided by the Young People of the church.

Slides Screened During Meeting

Floyd Saltsman screened slides of the National Campers and Hikers Association convention in Illinois last July when the Rainbows End chapter met Monday night at the Wellsville Boat Club.

He also screened slides of a trip that he and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. DuMoulin took last summer to the Grand Tetons, Yellowstone National Park, Badlands, S. D., and the Passion Play at Spearfish, S. D.

The group voted on officers for the Ohio chapter of the NCHA and bylaws booklets were distributed. Mr. and Mrs. George Foster of East Liverpool were enrolled as members. Saltsman, wagonmaster, presided.

Mrs. Zella Wise, hostess, was assisted in serving lunch to 20 by Mrs. Norma Ketchum. Members were reminded to bring filled in application blanks for the meeting at Van Wert May 22-24 to the next meeting April 7. They also are to bring own table service for the coverdish dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the boat club.

Fined, Sentenced

LISBON — Burns Riffe of Lisbon was fined $150 and costs and was sentenced to three days in the village jail Tuesday evening by Mayor Clyde B. Pike for driving while under the influence of alcohol. He pleaded guilty.

'Patrolman Of The Year'

Muckleroy Earns Patrol Honors At Lisbon Post 15

Ohio Highway Patrolman William Muckleroy has been chosen "Patrolman of the Year" at the Lisbon post and has been presented the award at District 4 headquarters in Warren.

Capt. C. C. Hayth said the citation was given to Muckleroy, 28, in recognition of his service at the post during 1968.

The decision was based on the quality of accident and criminal investigations, public contact, enforcement action, interpersonal relations, interest and enthusiasm, commendations, overall ability and personal appearance. Muckleroy was in competition with highway patrolmen at his assigned post.

"Patrolman Muckleroy is very conscientious with regard to his duties and responsibilities as a highway patrolman", Capt. Hayth said. "He is an extremely capable officer and continually strives to improve his already outstanding work record."

Muckleroy joined the patrol in 1963. He is a native of Barberton, and was graduated from Barberton High School. He attended Kent State University for a year. He served in the Army.

Muckleroy is married to the former Carol Ann Ozegovic, also of Barberton. They have one son.

Nixon And Wife Attend Rites Of President's Kin

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — President and Mrs. Nixon fly to this Central Pennsylvania university town today to attend the funeral for the President's uncle.

The chief executive and his wife leave the White House by helicopter in early afternoon to be here in time for the services for Ernest L. Nixon.

They will return to the nation's capital immediately after the funeral.

The services will be held at the Koch Funeral Home in State College, and burial will follow at Pine Hall Cemetery.

Nixon's uncle, formerly a faculty member at Pennsylvania State University, died Tuesday night in Centre County Hospital at the age of 85.

He was the youngest and last survivor among the brothers of the President's late father.

Closed-Circuit TV Due On Urban Issues

CINCINNATI (AP) — Governing officials from nearly 50 cities in the southern Ohio area are expected to participate in a closed - circuit telecast here March 26 of "Challenge from the Nixon Administration."

The program will enable community leaders to discuss urban affairs problems with President Nixon, members of his cabinet and the Urban Affairs Council.

8 More Spellers Reach Finals In Wellsville 'Bee'

Eight spellers at Wellsville's MacDonald School have advanced to the citywide contest March 13 at 1 p.m. in the school.

They are Jim Carosiello, Cheryl Banks, Sherre Crook, Linda Smith, Kim Ferry, Susan Pennell, Betsy Welch, al sixth-graders, and Randy Crook, a fifth-grader.

Rescuers Deliver Water To Trapped Utah Miner

LARK, Utah (AP) — Rescue workers drilled through some 35 feet of rock today and delivered water to a miner trapped nearly five days inside a zinc-lead mine in Northern Utah.

Bill Hawes, one of the rescue workers, said they had given William "Buck" Jones several two-ounce shots of water and hoped to get food to him soon, including bullion, eggnog, coffee and cereal.

"Man that tastes good," Jones told the workers after receiving his second drink of water.

Hawes said a light and water in tubes were pushed through the small opening made with a diamond bit.

Hawes said Jones was helping rescue workers by describing his enclosure now that he had some light.

John Bordon, another rescue worker, said Jones was using a wooden pick handle and a part of a drill he had with him to prop up the ceiling and walls of his enclosure to prevent further cave-ins.

Meanwhile other rescue crews, well aware of the extreme danger of cave-ins to both them and the trapped miner, move inch by inch to remove tons of rock and dirt to free him.

Two of Jones' 11 children, Clifford, 30, and Glen, 23, went into the mine late Tuesday and managed to talk with their father for about five minutes.

Clifford told newsmen later that phrases had to be repeated several times because they were talking through the wall of rock.

When asked how long it may be before his father was freed Clifford said, "It looks like he's in there for quite awhile."

He said his father "has been working to get out of there" and told his sons he had dug down about two feet to enlarge his three foot by three foot cubbyhole.

Jones became trapped at 11 a.m. Saturday 4½ miles inside the mine while working with another miner. There was a cave-in and the coworker jumped free. Jones ducked into a small adjoining tunnel and told his companion he was going to shore up the walls. A second cave-in sealed Jones inside.

Hope of reaching Jones alive had dwindled steadily.

Early Wednesday morning rescuers were amazed to hear him call out :"When are you going to get me out of here?"

Committee Hearings Expected

Ohio House Action Due On Lower Voting Age

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The House Reference Committee was expected today to report out a Senate-passed resolution to lower the voting age from 21 to 19.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess said the resolution probably will be sent to the State Government Committee for hearings.

If adopted by hoth houses, the constitutional amendment would be submitted to a vote of the people in November.

The resolution breezed through the Senate by a 30-3 vote a week ago, but was expected to run into trouble in the Reference Committee.

Although both political parties and the governor are supporting the resolution, some county committees do not want to see the vote given to 19-year-olds because they are afraid it might upset the political balance.

Kurfess earlier predicted that "there should be sufficient votes" on the House floor to pass it.

In legislative action Wdenesday the Senate received a bill to establish an office of state planning within the governor's office.

The long-awaited administration bill was outlined by Gov. James A. Rhodes in his State of the State speech Feb. 5.

Under the bill, the governor should appoint a state planning director and would be able to keep a tight rein on programming in state departments.

In the House, a bill was introduced to provide direct presidential primaries in Ohio.

The sponsor, Jim Thorpe, R-90 Alliance, said it would take the selection of delegates to national party conventions away "from the hands of political bosses."

The bill would allow the secretary of state to put the name of any candidate he feels is a national candidate for the office on the Ohio ballot.

A candidate could put his name on the ballot by collecting 50 signatures from each congressional district.

Thorpe's bill would also require that convention delegates be elected by submitting their candidacy to the voters rather than by being selected by their political organization.

At present, both parties submit their list of convention delegates as a slate.

In other action, the Senate passed two bills. A bill to prohibit medical quackery passed by a 32-0 vote.

It would prohibit any person from selling or administering any drug, device or treatment which is fraudently represented as a preventive, treatment or cure.

It provides a penalty of a maximum fine of $1,000 and one year imprisonment.

The Senate also passed 31-0 a bill to provide that an unsolicited gift sent through the mail as an offer for the sale of merchandise shall be an "unconditional gift."

The person receiving the gift would have no obligation to the sender.

ELKTON — Fund projects were discussed when the Elkton Mothers Club met at the school.

Mrs. Lettie Camphor presided.

A white elephant sale was held, with proceeds to go toward an Easter party for the children.

The next meeting will be March 27.

The administrative board of the Elkton United Methodist Church will meet tonight at 7:30.

World Day of Prayer will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Lisbon, with the Rev. Donald Babble guest speaker.

Training classes for children of the Elkton United Methodist Church will be held Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Lisbon church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones visited with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hedl of Leetonia Sunday night.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pike, Mrs. Gladys Sullivan, Mrs. Carol Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harrold of Lisbon and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leipper of Leetonia.

Mrs. George Eells and son visited with Mrs. Luther Parsons of East Liverpool.

Toronto Man Bound Over To Grand Jury

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) —Jefferson County Judge James R. McKenna Wednesday ordered Edward Perun over to the grand jury on a first - degree murder charge.

Perun is accused of slaying his daughter, Teresa, 33, on Feb. 25. The woman was found in the family's suburban Toronto home with her throat slashed.

Priorities Given For Studies By Advisory Group

Priorities have been assigned for investigations by the city's technical advisory committee, a newly - designated group assigned to aid the municipal government. The 10 studies, listed in descending order of importance, are:

A review of city income tax department collections; advice concerning any possible further sources of municipal revenue; a job evaluation in each municipal department.

A decision whether the city should seek a levy for fire and police department operations and, if so, how much and when; a local street improvement program.

Development of a downtown business mall and industrial park, suggested new legislation, annexation of adjoining territory and a parks and recreation program.

George A. Shaw heads the TAC, which expects to form subcommittees to make the studies.

Industrialist's Death Ruled As Accidental

LIMERICK, Ireland (AP) — The death in January of industrialist Henry Hutchens of Montpelier, Ohio, was ruled accidental Wednesday by a coroner's jury.

Hutchens was killed when a car in which he was riding crashed into a ditch near Shannon Airport.

Nominating Unit Selected During Meeting Of PTO

A five - member nominating committee was named when the MacDonald School Parent - Teacher Organization met Monday at Wellsville.

Chosen were Mrs. Irene LaClair, PTO vice president; Mrs. Iwilla Handley, PTO secretary, and Mrs. Sue Andrews, PTO treasurer, and Mrs. Becky Russell and Mrs. Linda Householder.

Ann Drumel of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. discussed "Fantastic Splendors in Ohio."

A invitation to participate in a talent show was read from the West Point PTA. The event will be April 12 at 7 p. m. in the school. Mrs. Helen Martin, PTO president, said information may be obtained at the West Point School by any parent or youth interested in participating.

Mrs. Martin thanked those who assisted in the recent "mock" bake sale. She said the money collected will be used to purchase a traffic light for erection near the school.

The room count was won by Mrs. Ann Wilfing's fourth grade.

Refreshments were served by the second and third grade homeroom mothers.

Ohio House Action Due On Lower Voting Age

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The House Reference Committee was expected today to report out a Senate-passed resolution to lower the voting age from 21 to 19.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess said the resolution probably will be sent to the State Government Committee for hearings.

If adopted by hoth houses, the constitutional amendment would be submitted to a vote of the people in November.

The resolution breezed through the Senate by a 30-3 vote a week ago, but was expected to run into trouble in the Reference Committee.

Although both political parties and the governor are supporting the resolution, some county committees do not want to see the vote given to 19-year-olds because they are afraid it might upset the political balance.

Kurfess earlier predicted that "there should be sufficient votes" on the House floor to pass it.

In legislative action Wdenesday the Senate received a bill to establish an office of state planning within the governor's office.

The long-awaited administration bill was outlined by Gov. James A. Rhodes in his State of the State speech Feb. 5.

Under the bill, the governor should appoint a state planning director and would be able to keep a tight rein on programming in state departments.

In the House, a bill was introduced to provide direct presidential primaries in Ohio.

The sponsor, Jim Thorpe, R-90 Alliance, said it would take the selection of delegates to national party conventions away "from the hands of political bosses."

The bill would allow the secretary of state to put the name of any candidate he feels is a national candidate for the office on the Ohio ballot.

A candidate could put his name on the ballot by collecting 50 signatures from each congressional district.

Thorpe's bill would also require that convention delegates be elected by submitting their candidacy to the voters rather than by being selected by their political organization.

At present, both parties submit their list of convention delegates as a slate.

In other action, the Senate passed two bills. A bill to prohibit medical quackery passed by a 32-0 vote.

It would prohibit any person from selling or administering any drug, device or treatment which is fraudently represented as a preventive, treatment or cure.

It provides a penalty of a maximum fine of $1,000 and one year imprisonment.

The Senate also passed 31-0 a bill to provide that an unsolicited gift sent through the mail as an offer for the sale of merchandise shall be an "unconditional gift."

The person receiving the gift would have no obligation to the sender.

Priorities Given For Studies By Advisory Group

Priorities have been assigned for investigations by the city's technical advisory committee, a newly - designated group assigned to aid the municipal government. The 10 studies, listed in descending order of importance, are:

A review of city income tax department collections; advice concerning any possible further sources of municipal revenue; a job evaluation in each municipal department.

A decision whether the city should seek a levy for fire and police department operations and, if so, how much and when; a local street improvement program.

Development of a downtown business mall and industrial park, suggested new legislation, annexation of adjoining territory and a parks and recreation program.

George A. Shaw heads the TAC, which expects to form subcommittees to make the studies.

Miss Myrtle Strabley 679-2266

SALINEVILLE — World Day of Prayer will be observed Friday at 7:30 at the Salineville United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Ralph Chambers in charge.

All area churches will participate in both the devotional program and musical selections, he said.

Miss Judy Wright of St. Petersburg, Fla., has returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bryson of Hayti.

The birthday anniversaries of Ray Slagle and Miss Myrtle Strabley were celebrated Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Slagle of Minerva RD.

A decorated cake flanked by tapers centered the table. A St. Patrick's Day theme was used.

Guests from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mrs. Nelle Daley.

James Pastore, who has been a patient at Salem City Hospital, has returned home.

Species Unrecognized

Middle-Ager Of Month?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Conservationists are alarmed about the number of species of wild life which are in danger of extinction. How about a species of tame life which is in some peril, too—namely, middle-aged people?

At present they may not be in any danger of disappearing from the earth, but they are in danger of being forgotten and their contribution to society overlooked.

In a time of ever-increasing accent on youth, it is the teen-ager who gets all the attention and concern. Who worries about the middle-ager? Practically nobody but himself.

Science and industry spend untold millions thinking up new products for the teen-ager and fresh ways to please him. But do you see science and industry cudgeling their brains to dream up new kinds of fun for people over 40? Nope.

It is hard to understand all this toadying to the whims of the teen-ager. Has one of them built a mighty bridge lately, come up with a better mouse trap, or even made a trip into space except with the help of a psychedelic drug?

No, sir, they have not. When you get right down to it, the teen-ager is largely an untested potential, whereas your middle-ager can show a clear record of actual performance.

Our civilization, such as it is, is clearly dependent upon that performance. Middle-agers—those between 40 and 65—probably make up the largest single segment of the population. They outnumber the preteeners, the teen-agers, the young adults, or the oldsters.

They hold the most jobs, earn the most money, pay the most bills, fill Uncle Sam's coffers with their tax dollars. It is chiefly by their labor and as a result of their sacrifices that our society operates. How long would the Bell Telephone System prosper if teen-agers had to pay for their own phone calls?

Since middle-agers are so vital to the national welfare, should they not then be duly honored for their contributions?

Why not a National Middle-agers Month or, if that seems like overgilding the lily, a National Middle-agers Day at the very least?

On such a day all middle-agers would receive a congratulatory letter from their governments—local, state and federal. Perhaps middle-agers might be allowed to ride free on public buses and subways for the day.

Some kind of tribute certainly is long overdue. If middle-agers continue to go unrewarded and unrecognized, there is always the danger that, in a mass act of self-pity, they may, on some dark night, rush lemminglike into the sea and drown in the black waters of oblivion.

Gee, teen-agers you wouldn't want that to happen, would you?

Applications Deadline Set For Pageant

The deadline for applications for Columbiana and Jefferson County girls interested in participating in the Miss Eastern Ohio Pageant has been set for Monday, officials of the East Liverpool Jaycees announced today.

The organization is sponsoring the event that will cover four counties this year — Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Monroe. The pageant is a preliminary to the Miss Ohio finals at Sandusky in July. The winner at Sandusky will represent the state in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City.

Charles B. Lang of East Liverpool, business manager, said prospective contestants may be no older than 28. Ralph Fusco of Wellsville, director, announced this year's pageant theme will be "Parisian Holiday."

This is the first year for the Miss Eastern Ohio Pageant. The Jaycees previously held a contest in Columbiana County.

Lang, along with other Jaycee members, interviewed girls Wednesday night at Belmont County's branch of Ohio University at St. Clairsville.

The contest will be held here May 3. The state finals will be July 7-12.

To Purchase Firm

TROY, Ohio (AP) — The Hobart Manufacturing Co. announced Wednesday that an agreement in principle has been reached for purchase of Coch Refrigerator Inc. of Kansas City, Kan. Value of the transaction was not disclosed.

Inmate Draws 10-60 Years In Pen Riots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Howard John Conte, 34, the second of more than 50 Ohio Penitentiary inmates to be tried on rioting charges, was convicted Wednesday on four counts and sentenced to 10-60 years in prison.

A Franklin County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated about three hours before returning the verdict.

Judge Leonard J. Stern sentenced Conte to 5-30 year terms on each count, to be served in consecutive concurrent pairs. He starts serving the terms when he finishes a 1-25 year sentence on an armed robbery conviction in Cuyahoga County.

Conte was charged in connection with inmate rioting at the penitentiary last June and August.

Woolworth Plans 90th Anniversary Program In May

Employes of the F. W. Woolworth Co. store here and those acorss the nation will mark the 90th anniversary of the firm in May, K. F. Ladouceur, local manager, has announced.

The store is one of 3,381 in the chain which had sales of $1.9 billion in 1967.

The company was founded by F. W. Woolworth at Lancaster, Pa., in 1879. Plans call for special ceremonies at the Lancaster store, a television special on NBC, and a change in the Woolworth sign as it appears on new stores.

The East Liverpool store was opened in January 1913 at the 5th St. location it still occupies. The store employs 13. For many years the chain purchased large quantities of pottery from Homer Laughlin China Co. and the former W. S. George Co. for retailing throughout the U.S.

The chain includes 92 Woolco Department stores and 873 Kinney Shoe Stores.

The founder, Frank Winfield opened the original store with an inventory of $410, and registered opening day sales of $127.65. H. E. Davidson, regional manager, said Woolworth pioneered in some retailing techniques; he set a 5-cent limit on all merchandise and introduced the practice of openly displaying items on counters.

Nashville, Tenn., has more than 30 city parks, the most famous of them being Centennial Park containing the world's only full scale reproduction of the Parthenon.

Species Unrecognized

Middle-Ager Of Month?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

Conservationists are alarmed about the number of species of wild life which are in danger of extinction. How about a species of tame life which is in some peril, too—namely, middle-aged people?

At present they may not be in any danger of disappearing from the earth, but they are in danger of being forgotten and their contribution to society overlooked.

In a time of ever-increasing accent on youth, it is the teenager who gets all the attention and concern. Who worries about the middle-ager? Practically nobody but himself.

Science and industry spend untold millions thinking up new products for the teen-ager and fresh ways to please him. But do you see science and industry budgeling their brains to dream up new kinds of fun for people over 40? Nope.

It is hard to understand all this toadying to the whims of the teen-ager. Has one of them built a mighty bridge lately, come up with a better mouse trap, or even made a trip into space except with the help of a psychedelic drug?

No, sir, they have not. When you get right down to it, the teen-ager is largely an untested potential, whereas your middle-ager can show a clear record of actual performance.

Our civilization, such as it is, is clearly dependent upon that performance. Middle-agers—those between 40 and 65—probably make up the largest single segment of the population. They outnumber the preteeners, the teen-agers, the young adults, or the oldsters.

They hold the most jobs, earn the most money, pay the most bills, fill Uncle Sam's coffers with their tax dollars. It is chiefly by their labor and as a result of their sacrifices that our society operates. How long would the Bell Telephone System prosper if teen-agers had to pay for their own phone calls?

Since middle-agers are so vital to the national welfare, should they not then be duly honored for their contributions?

Why not a National Middle-agers Month or, if that seems like overgilding the lily, a National Middle-agers Day at the very least?

On such a day all middle-agers would receive a congratulatory letter from their governments—local, state and federal. Perhaps middle-agers might be allowed to ride free on public buses and subways for the day.

Some kind of tribute certainly is long overdue. If middle-agers continue to go unrewarded and unrecognized, there is always the danger that, in a mass act of self-pity, they may, on some dark night, rush lemminglike into the sea and drown in the black waters of oblivion.

Gee, teen-agers you wouldn't want that to happen, would you?

Applications Deadline Set For Pageant

The deadline for applications for Columbiana and Jefferson County girls interested in participating in the Miss Eastern Ohio Pageant has been set for Monday, officials of the East Liverpool Jaycees announced today.

The organization is sponsoring the event that will cover four counties this year — Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Monroe. The pageant is a preliminary to the Miss Ohio finals at Sandusky in July. The winner at Sandusky will represent the state in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City.

Charles B. Lang of East Liverpool, business manager, said prospective contestants may be no older than 28. Ralph Fusco of Wellsville, director, announced this year's pageant theme will be "Parisian Holiday."

This is the first year for the Miss Eastern Ohio Pageant. The Jaycees previously held a contest in Columbiana County.

Lang, along with other Jaycee members, interviewed girls Wednesday night at Belmont County's branch of Ohio University at St. Clairsville.

The contest will be held here May 3. The state finals will be July 7-12.

TROY, Ohio (AP) — The Hobart Manufacturing Co. announced Wednesday that an agreement in principle has been reached for purchase of Coch Refrigerator Inc. of Kansas City, Kan. Value of the transaction was not disclosed.

Inmate Draws 10-60 Years In Pen Riots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Howard John Conte, 34, the second of more than 50 Ohio Penitentiary inmates to be tried on rioting charges, was convicted Wednesday on four counts and sentenced to 10-60 years in prison.

A Franklin County Common Pleas Court jury deliberated about three hours before returning the verdict.

Judge Leonard J. Stern sentenced Conte to 5-30 year terms on each count, to be served in consecutive concurrent pairs. He starts serving the terms when he finishes a 1-25 year sentence on an armed robbery conviction in Cuyahoga County.

Conte was charged in connection with inmate rioting at the penitentiary last June and August.

Follansbee Eliminates Oak Glen In Section Tournament

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

"If this is the best of Pennsylvania basketball, I think there are five or 10 teams in Ohio that would beat them" said East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell after viewing a WPIAL quarterfinal doubleheader Tuesday night.

The four teams involved Penn Hills, Mt. Lebanon, Uniontown and Highlands aren't neccessarily the best Pennsylvania basketball, but there is no question that the WPIAL, for the second year in a row, has been disappointing in its quality. There is no 1967 Ambridge team or 1965 Midland squad here this year.

Farrell, the pre-tourney favorite, looked very sluggish in its first outing, 51-33 win over Norwin. The Steelers shot poorly and turned the ball over too often. But Farrell has three things going for it: excellent defense, good foul shooting and the outstanding coaching of Ed McCluskey. With no one over 6-2, however, it will take some doing for Farrell to go all the way.

Penn Hills is an impressive team, especially the backcourt tandem of George Karl and Don Wilson. But the Indians lack height and depth. Sto-Rox would be the third team with a chance to take the title. The Vikings have height, good shooting, adequate ball handling and the imaginitive coaching of Milan Tatala. Larry Young and Dean Arlett pace Sto-Rox.

East Liverpool's Al Bailey, scouting the tournament along with Duquesne head coach Red Manning and fellow assistant John Cinacola, and the Dukes had hopes of landing Karl and Dave Johnson of Farrell. Bailey also said he is trying to get Nick Weatherspoon, the 6-7 star of Canton McKinley.

JACK GYSEGEM, the head basketball coach at Warren Harding the past five years, has resigned to take a post in business. He guilded Warren to the state semi-finals in 1966. Harding went 9-12 this past season.

FORMER East Liverpool High football coach Bob Hedmond has been named head coach at the new Brooke County High School in West Virginia. Hedmond coached here from 1961-1963. For the last three years he has been an assistant at Steubenville High. Brooke County is the merger of Wellsburg and Follansbee.

Carnes Has 15 For Game High

Follansbee eliminated Oak Glen from tournament play last night with a 63-47 win over the Golden Bears on the losers' floor.

The first half was close all the way, with Follansbee taking a 28-23 halftime edge, but in the second half the Blue Wave pulled away.

Bob Conley led the winners with 13 points and Guy Casinelli and Jim Baker had 12 each. Jim Carnes of Oak Glen took game honors with 15, while Tim Crago and Tom McGeehan had 10 each.

Follansbee shot 39 per cent to only 24 per cent by the losers. The Blue Wave also enjoyed a 46-43 rebounding edge. Larry Manypenny grabbed 16 for Jack McDevitt's club.

Oak Glen ends the season 5-16, while Follansbee is 6-15.

Section 1, Region 1 play continues tonight at Oak Glen with Weirton meeting Wellsburg. Follansbee meets the winner for the section title Saturday night.

Hull Hits 50, Eyes NHL Goal Record

By The Associated Press

Bobby Hull is on a tear and he's liable to rip up a couple of National Hockey League records before he's through.

Chicago's blond bomber cracked the coveted 50-goal plateau for the fourth time in his 12-year career Wednesday night, scoring twice in the Black Haws' 4-4 tie with the New York Rangers.

His 50 goals this season gave him 464 for his career and third place on the all-time list, two ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau. Only Maurice Richard of Montreal, who scored 544 in 18 seasons, and Detroit's Gordie Howe, who hs 726 in 23 seasons, have more career goals than Hull.

Hulll has 10 games remaining to crack his single season record of 54 established in 1965-66. He has scored in nine consecutive games, one shy of the modern record set by Andy Bathgate of New York in 1962-63.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Boston's Phil Esposito, the NHL's first 100-point scorer, broke the NHL assist record with his 62nd and 63rd of the season, helping the Bruins to a 2-2 tie with Detroit. Toronto downed Los Angeles 6-4, Pittsburgh dropped St. Louis 4-2, and Minnesota tagged Oakland 5-2.

Hull's two goals against the Rangers twice tied the score with the record 50th coming at 1:43 of the third period. Then Chico Maki put the Hawks on top but Don Marshall tied it for New York with pnly 71 seconds left to play.

The only other 50-goal scorers in NHL history were Richard, who had 50 in 50 games in 1944-45 and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, who had 50 in 64 games in 1960-61.

The tie kept the Rangers one point behind Detroit and two ahead of Toronto in the scramble for third and fourth places in the NHL's East Division. Chicago is last, seven points back of third place Detroit.

St. Louis, the West Division leader, absorbed its fourth straight loss with last place Pittsburgh doing the damage.

Bonnies Nip Creighton

BYU, Murray St. Win, Gain NCAA Playoffs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brigham Young and Murray State won their way into the NCAA Basketball Tournament with strong second halves Wednesday night but BYU's Kari Liimo supplied the best Finnish of all.

Liimo, a 6-foot-7 forward from Finland, poured in 21 of his 27 points after the intermission and powered the surprising Cougars to a 95-82 Western Athletic Conference playoff victory over Wyoming and an NCAA berth.

In another conference playoff, Murray State broke open its game with Morehead State in the first eight minutes of the second half and rolled to a 94-76 triumph and the Ohio Valley championship.

Both team play their NCAA openers Saturday—Brigham Young against New Mexico State and Murray State against Marquette.

The NCAA now has 21 of its 25 teams, with titles still to be decided in the Atlantic Coast, Big Eight, Missouri Valley and West Coast Athletic Conferences.

In Wednesday's only other major games, St. Bonaventure nipped Creighton 74-72, Mississippi State got by Alabama 67-60 and the Air Force turned back Regis 88-77.

Brigham Young, down 44-37 at the half, swamped Wyoming 58-38 in the final 20 minutes and reversed a 1967 playoff loss to the Cowboys.

Carl Ashley, who finished with 34 points, shot the Cowboys ahead in the first half. But BYU tied the score at 57 with 12:18 left and took the lead for good 20 seconds later. Doug Howard contributed 23 points for the winners and held Wyoming's high-scoring Harry Hall to 18.

"I was very pleased with our over-all second-half performance, especially Liimo's," said BYU Coach Stan Watts. "I was impressed with the way our bench helped out, and that included Scott Warner (11 points), Bob Davis (5) and Jim Miller (5)."

Wyoming's Bill Strannigan was "disgusted" with his team's second half. "They took away our motion and jammed up the middle effectively" he moaned. "I think Brigham Young will fare well against New Mexico State in the NCAA regionals."

Murray led Morehead 44-38 at halftime and the Thoroughbreds raced to a 62-49 spread behind Hector Blondett and Jim Young. Claude Virden was high point man with 27, Blondett had 16 and Young 15.

Plucky St. Bonaventure held on to beat Creighton after 6-11 Bob Lanier, averaging 28 points a game, was ejected in the first half for throwing an elbow after scoring only three.

In the final minute, Billy Kalbaugh stole the ball and scored to give the Bonnies a 73-72 lead and Mike Kull canned a free throw with 10 seconds left. Jimmy Satalin took up the Lanier slack with 22 points while Bob Portman and Wally Anderzunas had 29 apiece for the Blue Jays.

It was the final game for Creighton Coach Red McManus, who has resigned after 10 seasons with a 138-118 record.

Howard Holdout From Senators

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Ted Williams managing and Frank Howard hitting, the Washington Senators should pack the parks this season, but Williams will have to carry the load alone today when the Senators open their exhibition season.

Howard, the giant home run hitter whose presence Williams certainly would trade for half tht people in the stands, is still holding out for more money.

Still Williams' managerial debut is expected to attract a full house of curious fans at tiny Municipal Stadium in Pompano Beach against the New York Yankees.

Williams also will be without his other power hitter, Ken McMullen, but at least McMullen is where he can be seen after ending his holdout Wednesday by signing an estimated $30,000 contract. However, he has missed the first 10 days of practice and will not play.

Howard, who led the American League with 44 home runs last season, was back home in Green Bay, Wis., talking about quitting unless he gets the three-year, $100,000 per year contract he has been demanding.

Williams and the Senators were not the only ones without top players as the exhibition games begin.

Minnesota still was without Dean Chance, Jim Kaat, Cesar Tovar, Leo Cardenas and John Roseboro; Willie Horton was missing from the Detroit camp; Cleveland still had trouble with Sonny Siebert, and Cincinnati still had Pete Rose and Jack Fisher unsigned.

Atlanta had yet to sign Joe Torre and Los Angeles missing Don Drysdale, Claude Osteen, Ron Fairly and Paul Popovich.

Tom Phoebus of Baltimore also signed along with Rich Rollins and Darrell Brandon of Seattle and Ken Boyer of Los Angeles.

Mix, Ford, McKee Pace All-MAC Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three of the players named Wednesday to the Mid-American Conference's 1969 all-league basketball team were unanimous selections of the loop's seven coaches.

Steve Mix, Toledo's record-busting basketball ace, heads the list. It is the third straight year the 6-foot-6 Mix has landed on the first team.

The two other unanimous choices are Gene Ford of Western Michigan and Gerald McKee of Ohio University.

Ford is a repeater from last year's squad, while McKee was a second team choice a year ago.

The 1969 All-Mid - American Conference team:

Gene Ford, Western Michigan, 6-5, 212 pound senior from Chicago, Ill.; Gerald McKee, Ohio University, 6-3, 185 pound senior from Dayton; Steve Mix, Toledo, 6-6 222 pound senior from Toledo; Dan D'Antoni, Marshall, 6 - 0, 160 pound senior from Mullens, W.Va., and Frank Lukacs Miami, 6-4, 193 pound senior from Sylvania.

The second team:

Tom Lagodich, Kent State, 6-6 215, junior from Canton; Doug Grayson, Kent State, 6-5, 200, senior, Lorain; Dan McLemore, Bowling Green, 6-5, 195, junior, Toledo; Ray Loucks, Miami, 6-10, 240, senior, Battle Creek, Mich., John Rudley, Toledo, 5-10 152, senior, Benton Harbor, Mich., and Walt Williams, Miami, 6-2, 170, junior Cincinnati.

Sorenson On 1st Team

Purdue's Mount, Gilliam On Big 10 All-Star Team

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue, champion for the first time since 1940, landed scoring titlist Rick Mount and playmaker Herman Gilliam on the 1969 All-Big Ten basketball team named by The Associated Press Thursday.

They were joined by Dave Sorenson of Ohio State; Rudy Tomjanovich, Michigan; and Dave Scholz, Illinois.

Mount, shooting for Big Ten scoring records, and Tomjanovich were unanimous choices by The Associated Press board of sports writers. Sorenson missed unanimity by one vote.

Scholz barely beat out Michigan State's Lee Lafayette for a first team berth in the closest balloting.

Mount and the 6-foot-8 Scholz are holdovers from the 1968 first team. Sorenson and Tomjanovich move up from the 1968 second team.

All members of the first and second teams are among the Big Ten's leading 20 scorers.

Superior height is a keynote of the No.1 lineup. Sorenson and Tomjanovich at 6-7 were rugged rebounders as well as outstanding scorers.

The brilliant Gilliam, whose floor work and all-around play was a main gear in Purdue's championship rush, is the shortest on the team at 6-3. He ha to sit out several late games with an ankle sprain.

Mount, one of the deftest sharpshooters in Big Ten history, is 6-4.

Bob Ward Resigns As Maryland Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Although Maryland's football players were unanimous in their desire to get rid of Coach Bob Ward, they refused to crow over his resignation.

The players released an unsigned statement Wednesday, just a few hours after Ward announced his resignation at a news conference. Sources at the Maryland campus say the players' pronouncement was written the night before, about the same time that Ward was preparing his resignation statement.

"We the players of the University of Maryland," the statement said, "claim no victory from this decision.

"We did what we felt was best for the football program now and in the future."

Their statement went on to praise Ward's accomplishments as a former Maryland All-American. His old No. 28 jersey is the only one ever to be retired by the school.

The statement described the trouble as a personality conflict and expressed regret "that an understanding between us could not be reached."

Word of widespread player dissatisfaction and the threat of a spring training boycott came to the surface late last week when Ward was out of town on a recruiting mission. He returned to assess the situation and seemed at first to believe that the dissent was confined to a handful of players.

His confidence in his ability to overcome the difficulty was expressed in a declaration that he would make "no compromise" in the situation.

However, when he met with school officials and his 125 players Tuesday night, Ward apparently became aware for the first time of the grievances held against him.

He then said the problem was due mostly to his "aggressive personality." The complaints were known to have been centered on his methods as a coach, especially in the running of team practices.

The 41-year-old Ward's departure marks another chapter in the history of Maryland's struggle to regain its national prominence on the gridiron.

The Terrapins were winless in 1967, Ward's first year at the helm, and only 2-17 in two seasons under his leadership.

Jim Kehoe, athletic director-designate who is in the process of succeeding the retiring Bill Cobey, said he would not be able to consider Ward's replacement until early next week. Spring training for the Terps begins April 8.

District Final Tickets To Be Sold Friday

Follansbee Eliminates Oak Glen In Section Tournament

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

"If this is the best of Pennsylvania basketball, I think there are five or 10 teams in Ohio that would beat them" said East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell after viewing a WPIAL quarterfinal doubleheader Tuesday night.

The four teams involved Penn Hills, Mt. Lebanon, Uniontown and Highlands aren't neccessarily the best Pennsylvania basketball, but there is no question that the WPIAL, for the second year in a row, has been disappointing in its quality. There is no 1967 Ambridge team or 1965 Midland squad here this year.

Farrell, the pre-tourney favorite, looked very sluggish in its first outing, 51-33 win over Norwin. The Steelers shot poorly and turned the ball over too often. But Farrell has three things going for it: excellent defense, good foul shooting and the outstanding coaching of Ed McCluskey. With no one over 6-2, however, it will take some doing for Farrell to go all the way.

Penn Hills is an impressive team, especially the backcourt tandem of George Karl and Don Wilson. But the Indians lack height and depth. Sto-Rox would be the third team with a chance to take the title. The Vikings have height, good shooting, adequate ball handling and the imaginitive coaching of Milan Tatala. Larry Young and Dean Arlett pace Sto-Rox.

East Liverpool's Al Bailey, scouting the tournament along with Duquesne head coach Red Manning and fellow assistant John Cinacola, and the Dukes had hopes of landing Karl and Dave Johnson of Farrell. Bailey also said he is trying to get Nick Weatherspoon, the 6-7 star of Canton McKinley.

JACK GYSEGEM, the head basketball coach at Warren Harding the past five years, has resigned to take a post in business. He guilded Warren to the state semi-finals in 1966. Harding went 9-12 this past season.

Richard Jeric, who left an assistant's post at Warren Western Reserve to take over as the head football coach at Aliquippa, has left the Pennsylvania school after one season.

FORMER East Liverpool High football coach Bob Hedmond has been named head coach at the new Brooke County High School in West Virginia. Hedmond coached here from 1961-1963. For the last three years he has been an assistant at Steubenville High. Brooke County is the merger of Wellsburg and Follansbee.

Carnes Has 15 For Game High

Follansbee eliminated Oak Glen from tournament play last night with a 63-47 win over the Golden Bears on the losers' floor.

The first half was close all the way, with Follansbee taking a 28-23 halftime edge, but in the second half the Blue Wave pulled away.

Bob Conley led the winners with 13 points and Guy Casinelli and Jim Baker had 12 each. Jim Carnes of Oak Glen took game honors with 15, while Tim Crago and Tom McGeehan had 10 each.

Follansbee shot 39 per cent to only 24 per cent by the losers. The Blue Wave also enjoyed a 46-43 rebounding edge. Larry Manypenny grabbed 16 for Jack McDevitt's club.

Oak Glen ends the season 5-16, while Follansbee is 6-15.

Section 1, Region 1 play continues tonight at Oak Glen with Weirton meeting Wellsburg. Follansbee meets the winner for the section title Saturday night.

Hull Hits 50, Eyes NHL Goal Record

By The Associated Press

Bobby Hull is on a tear and he's liable to rip up a couple of National Hockey League records before he's through.

Chicago's blond bomber cracked the coveted 50-goal plateau for the fourth time in his 12-year career Wednesday night, scoring twice in the Black Haws' 4-4 tie with the New York Rangers.

His 50 goals this season gave him 464 for his career and third place on the all-time list, two ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau. Only Maurice Richard of Montreal, who scored 544 in 18 seasons, and Detroit's Gordie Howe, who hs 726 in 23 seasons, have more career goals than Hull.

Hulll has 10 games remaining to crack his single season record of 54 established in 1965-66. He has scored in nine consecutive games, one shy of the modern record set by Andy Bathgate of New York in 1962-63.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Boston's Phil Esposito, the NHL's first 100-point scorer, broke the NHL assist record with his 62nd and 63rd of the season, helping the Bruins to a 2-2 tie with Detroit. Toronto downed Los Angeles 6-4, Pittsburgh dropped St. Louis 4-2, and Minnesota tagged Oakland 5-2.

Hull's two goals against the Rangers twice tied the score with the record 50th coming at 1:43 of the third period. Then Chico Maki put the Hawks on top but Don Marshall tied it for New York with pnly 71 seconds left to play.

The only other 50-goal scorers in NHL history were Richard, who had 50 in 50 games in 1944-45 and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, who had 50 in 64 games in 1960-61.

The tie kept the Rangers one point behind Detroit and two ahead of Toronto in the scramble for third and fourth places in the NHL's East Division. Chicago is last, seven points back of third place Detroit.

St. Louis, the West Division leader, absorbed its fourth straight loss with last place Pittsburgh doing the damage.

Bonnies Nip Creighton

BYU, Murray St. Win, Gain NCAA Playoffs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brigham Young and Murray State won their way into the NCAA Basketball Tournament with strong second halves Wednesday night but BYU's Kari Liimo supplied the best Finnish of all.

Liimo, a 6-foot-7 forward from Finland, poured in 21 of his 27 points after the intermission and powered the surprising Cougars to a 95-82 Western Athletic Conference playoff victory over Wyoming and an NCAA berth.

In another conference playoff, Murray State broke open its game with Morehead State in the first eight minutes of the second half and rolled to a 94-76 triumph and the Ohio Valley championship.

Both team play their NCAA openers Saturday—Brigham Young against New Mexico State and Murray State against Marquette.

The NCAA now has 21 of its 25 teams, with titles still to be decided in the Atlantic Coast, Big Eight, Missouri Valley and West Coast Athletic Conferences.

In Wednesday's only other major games, St. Bonaventure nipped Creighton 74-72, Mississippi State got by Alabama 67-60 and the Air Force turned back Regis 88-77.

Brigham Young, down 44-37 at the half, swamped Wyoming 58-38 in the final 20 minutes and reversed a 1967 playoff loss to the Cowboys.

Carl Ashley, who finished with 34 points, shot the Cowboys ahead in the first half. But BYU tied the score at 57 with 12:18 left and took the lead for good 20 seconds later. Doug Howard contributed 23 points for the winners and held Wyoming's high-scoring Harry Hall to 18.

"I was very pleased with our over-all second-half performance, especially Liimo's," said BYU Coach Stan Watts. "I was impressed with the way our bench helped out, and that included Scott Warner (11 points), Bob Davis (5) and Jim Miller (5)."

Wyoming's Bill Strannigan was "disgusted" with his team's second half. "They took away our motion and jammed up the middle effectively" he moaned. "I think Brigham Young will fare well against New Mexico State in the NCAA regionals."

Murray led Morehead 44-38 at halftime and the Thoroughbreds raced to a 62-49 spread behind Hector Blondett and Jim Young. Claude Virden was high point man with 27, Blondett had 16 and Young 15.

Plucky St. Bonaventure held on to beat Creighton after 6-11 Bob Lanier, averaging 28 points a game, was ejected in the first half for throwing an elbow after scoring only three.

In the final minute, Billy Kalbaugh stole the ball and scored to give the Bonnies a 73-72 lead and Mike Kull canned a free throw with 10 seconds left. Jimmy Satalin took up the Lanier slack with 22 points while Bob Portman and Wally Anderzunas had 29 apiece for the Blue Jays.

It was the final game for Creighton Coach Red McManus, who has resigned after 10 seasons with a 138-118 record.

Howard Holdout From Senators

Associated Press Sports Writer

With Ted Williams managing and Frank Howard hitting, the Washington Senators should pack the parks this season, but Williams will have to carry the load alone today when the Senators open their exhibition season.

Howard, the giant home run hitter whose presence Williams certainly would trade for half tht people in the stands, is still holding out for more money.

Still Williams' managerial debut is expected to attract a full house of curious fans at tiny Municipal Stadium in Pompano Beach against the New York Yankees.

Williams also will be without his other power hitter, Ken McMullen, but at least McMullen is where he can be seen after ending his holdout Wednesday by signing an estimated $30,000 contract. However, he has missed the first 10 days of practice and will not play.

Howard, who led the American League with 44 home runs last season, was back home in Green Bay, Wis., talking about quitting unless he gets the three-year, $100,000 per year contract he has been demanding.

Williams and the Senators were not the only ones without top players as the exhibition games begin.

Minnesota still was without Dean Chance, Jim Kaat, Cesar Tovar, Leo Cardenas and John Roseboro; Willie Horton was missing from the Detroit camp; Cleveland still had trouble with Sonny Siebert, and Cincinnati still had Pete Rose and Jack Fisher unsigned.

Atlanta had yet to sign Joe Torre and Los Angeles missing Don Drysdale, Claude Osteen, Ron Fairly and Paul Popovich.

Tom Phoebus of Baltimore also signed along with Rich Rollins and Darrell Brandon of Seattle and Ken Boyer of Los Angeles.

Mix, Ford, McKee Pace All-MAC Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three of the players named Wednesday to the Mid-American Conference's 1969 all-league basketball team were unanimous selections of the loop's seven coaches.

Steve Mix, Toledo's record-busting basketball ace, heads the list. It is the third straight year the 6-foot-6 Mix has landed on the first team.

The two other unanimous choices are Gene Ford of Western Michigan and Gerald McKee of Ohio University.

Ford is a repeater from last year's squad, while McKee was a second team choice a year ago.

The 1969 All-Mid - American Conference team:

Gene Ford, Western Michigan, 6-5, 212 pound senior from Chicago, Ill.; Gerald McKee, Ohio University, 6-3, 185 pound senior from Dayton; Steve Mix, Toledo, 6-6 222 pound senior from Toledo; Dan D'Antoni, Marshall, 6 - 0, 160 pound senior from Mullens, W.Va., and Frank Lukacs Miami, 6-4, 193 pound senior from Sylvania.

The second team:

Bob Ward Resigns As Maryland Coach

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Although Maryland's football players were unanimous in their desire to get rid of Coach Bob Ward, they refused to crow over his resignation.

The players released an unsigned statement Wednesday, just a few hours after Ward announced his resignation at a news conference. Sources at the Maryland campus say the players' pronouncement was written the night before, about the same time that Ward was preparing his resignation statement.

"We the players of the University of Maryland," the statement said, "claim no victory from this decision.

"We did what we felt was best for the football program now and in the future."

Their statement went on to praise Ward's accomplishments as a former Maryland All-American. His old No. 28 jersey is the only one ever to be retired by the school.

The statement described the trouble as a personality conflict and expressed regret "that an understanding between us could not be reached."

Word of widespread player dissatisfaction and the threat of a spring training boycott came to the surface late last week when Ward was out of town on a recruiting mission. He returned to assess the situation and seemed at first to believe that the dissent was confined to a handful of players.

His confidence in his ability to overcome the difficulty was expressed in a declaration that he would make "no compromise" in the situation.

Sorenson On 1st Team

Purdue's Mount, Gilliam On Big 10 All-Star Team

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue, champion for the first time since 1940, landed scoring titlist Rick Mount and playmaker Herman Gilliam on the 1969 All-Big Ten basketball team named by The Associated Press Thursday.

They were joined by Dave Sorenson of Ohio State; Rudy Tomjanovich, Michigan; and Dave Scholz, Illinois.

Mount, shooting for Big Ten scoring records, and Tomjanovich were unanimous choices by The Associated Press board of sports writers. Sorenson missed unanimity by one vote.

Scholz barely beat out Michigan State's Lee Lafayette for a first team berth in the closest balloting.

Mount and the 6-foot-8 Scholz are holdovers from the 1968 first team. Sorenson and Tomjanovich move up from the 1968 second team.

All members of the first and second teams are among the Big Ten's leading 20 scorers.

Superior height is a keynote of the No.1 lineup. Sorenson and Tomjanovich at 6-7 were rugged rebounders as well as outstanding scorers.

The brilliant Gilliam, whose floor work and all-around play was a main gear in Purdue's championship rush, is the shortest on the team at 6-3. He ha to sit out several late games with an ankle sprain.

Mount, one of the deftest sharpshooters in Big Ten history, is 6-4.

Ashland 1st In Final Poll

By R. L. SHAFFER

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Bill Musselman, Ashland College basketball coach, believes in setting goals—like being the top small college team in the nation, winning the national championship and being the best defensive team in the nation.

Today, his Eagles have reached two of those goals and will be working on the third this weekend when they play host to the NCAA Mideast regional tournament—a step toward the national title which will be decided at Evansville, Ind.

The Eagles were named the best small college team in the nation Wednesday by The Associated Press, based on votes of a national panel of 18 sports writers and broadcasters.

Ashland received eight first-place votes and a total of 367 points. Runner-up Fairmont, W.Va., had one first and 262 points.

Trailing the top two in this order were: Alcorn A&M, Howard Payne, Trinity Tex., Kentucky Wesleyan, Stephen F. Austin, Southwestern, La., Lamar Tech and Gannon, Pa.

"If you don't set goals, you can't accomplish anything," says the 28-year-old Musselman, who goes around the country recruiting players by informing them that Ashland is going to win a national title. He set his goals at the beginning of the year, even though he had only one starter back from the 1967-68 season.

The thing about Musselman's goals is that people start believing in them—especially basketball players.

His first year as varsity coach in 1965-66, Ashland broke even —10 wins and 10 losses.

"The next year we posted a sign in the locker room saying we were going to be the best defensive team in the nation," says Musselman. After four games, the boys began to believe they could do it."

Ashland wound up with a 21-3 record that year and the next season set a national record for defense, allowing an average of 38.8 points per game, and posted a 24-6 record.

Musselman was greeted with some scepticism when he said he could better that mark. The Eagles dropped the record to 31 points per game this year in winning 23 and losing two.

"Some people have been critical of our disciplined and defensive style of play," said the coach, "but I guess we've proved this year that that might be the best way to play winning basketball."

The final Top 20 with first place votes, season records through Sat. March 1 and total points for the first 15 picks on a basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-etc.:

1. Ashland, Ohio (8)	23-2	367

2-1 Trade Backfires On Knicks

By The Associated Press

When New York and Detroit made their big National Basketball Association trade last December the Knicks gave up two for one. Wednesday night the two was one too many.

Howard Komives had his best night as a Piston with 30 points and seven assists in Detroit's 128-120 victory over the Knicks. Walt Bellamy, who joined him on the New York-to-Detroit trip, added 21 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, offsetting the 26 points and 21 rebounds for Dave DeBusschere, who traveled the opposite route.

Elsewhere, Chicago moved into the fourth and last playoff spot in the Western Division by three points over San Diego with a 124-108 rout of Milwaukee and San Francisco defeated Baltimore 114-107.

Bellamy and Jimmy Walker, who scored 29 points in his most solid performance in weeks, pumped in 12 apiece in the third period as the Pistons stretched a three-point lead to eight. Komives then drilled in 14 in the final quarter to keep the Knicks at bay.

It was a costly defeat for the Knicks, dropping them 1½ games behind second-place Philadelphia in the East and leaving them 4½ behind front-running Baltimore.

The Bulls shot accurately and controlled the boards as they whipped Milwaukee and edged past idle San Diego. Jerry Sloan fired Chicago with 43 points while Jon McGlocklin had 38 for the losers.

The Bulls built a 17-point lead in the first period but had to pull away again after the Bucks cut it to 74-70 midway through the third quarter.

Baltimore wiped out a 10-point San Francisco lead in the fourth period as Earl Monroe scored 18 of his 42 points in the quarter. But Jeff Mullins' basket put the Warriors ahead again, this time for good.

Nate Thurmond led the winners with 34 and Mullins added 28.

Nonpareil Club To Buy Cage Patches

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club voted to buy Big 8 Champ patches for the members of the 1968-69 East Liverpool High basketball team.

The decision was made at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at Headpin Lanes. About 40 attended.

Littler Potter Basketball League trophies were awarded to all sponsors, and the winner's trophy went to East Junior.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of finding a permanent meeting site to be owned by the club.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Bob Skinner, known as everybody's friend last year as a rookie manager, is cracking the whip this spring in the camp of the Philadelphia Phillies. After a seventh-place finish in 1968 and 18 straight non-winning years the word is—put out or get out.

No club in baseball is working harder this spring than the Phils. They run laps around the new training complex until their tongues hang out. They team up on the exercise machines in a grunt and groan routine that smacks more of a Vince Lombardi drill than a Phillie workout.

"I am a great believer in conditioning," said Skinner during a brief respite in the grind. "We're going to work on the basics and the right attitude. I understand this is rather new with the Phillies.

Skinner, who replaced Gene Mauch last June 15, is well aware of talk about a lack of consistency in discipline and a permissiveness in conditioning last summer.

"I came here in the middle of the year. I had to find out about my personnel. I spent most of the year studying. I had to find out just what had to be done.

Youngsters like Don Money, the shortstop the club got from Pittsburgh in the Jim Bunning deal last year, and Larry Hisle, the centerfielder of the future, are key men in the 1969 plans.

Money, 21, hit .303 at San Diego where he had nine homers and 59 runs batttd in. Hisle, also 21, also batted .303 at San Diego. Hisle was stricken with hepatitis June 30 and saw no more action but hit six homes in 69 games with the Padres. He has been given a clean bill of health by the medicos.

Much depends on Richie Allen, the sometimes temperamental slugger whose career almost was ended by a serious hand injury in 1967. Although he could swing only one good hand, he slammed 33 homers and drove in 90 runs last year while batting .263.

"Allen is a great player," said Skinner. "He could be the outstanding player in the league. I know there were problems about showing up late and other things but they happened before I came."

Skinner's outfield probably will have Allen in left, Hisle in Center and Johnny Callison in right. Ron Stone, acquired from Baltimore in the Clay Dalrymple deal, is a well-liked outfield prospect. Don Lock also is available.

Deron Johnson will get a shot at first base. Johnson flopped badly at Atlanta last year where he hit only .208 but Skinner hopes he can come back to his old Cincinnati form.

Bill White is in the first base fight with Johnson. If White can make it at 35, Johnson could wind up at third base. Tony Taylor will be either at third or battling Cookie Rojas at second, depending on Johnson. John Briggs, also is listed as a first baseman this year.

With Dalrymple gone, Mike Ryan figures to be the No. 1 catcher, backed up by John Sullivan or Doc Edwards, both now on minor league rosters.

Chris Short is the big man of the pitching staff. Rick Wise, Woody Fryman and Jerry Johnson, a fine '68 rookie, could be the other starters. Gary Wagner, Bill Wilson and Dick Farrell man the bullpen. Rookies due for a long look include Barry Lersch (11-8 at San Diego), Larry Colton (5-2 at San Diego), Lowell Palmer (13-8 at San Diego), Pat Bayless (12-8 at Reading) and Bill Laxton (3-6 at Porstmouth).

Kenyon's John Rinka Heads OC All-Stars

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Little John Rinka of Kenyon College, one of the nation's best shotmakers, heads up the All-Ohio Conference basketball team named today by the league's 14 coaches.

Rinka, a 5-foot-9 junior and 6 - 6 Chuck Claggett, a junior from Denison, are the only repeaters from last season's squad.

Rinka, who paced the conference in scoring for the second straight year, was named captain of the all-league team for the second time by receiving the most votes. He finished with a 34.8 average.

Filling out the first team are Ted Johnson, 6-5 senior from Baldwin-Wallace; Lorenzo Hunt, 6-3 junior from Otterbein and Tom Dinger, 5 - 11 sophomore from Wooster.

The 1968-69 All-Ohio Conference Basketball team:

John Rinka, Kenyon, 5-9 junior from Milwaukee, Wis.; Ted Johnson, Baldwin-Wallace, 6-5 senior from Dayton; Chuck Clagggett, Denison, 6 - 6 junior from Newark; Lorenzo Hunt, Otterbein, 6-3 junior from Jamaica, N. Y.; Tom Dinger, Wooster, 5-11 sophomore from Mansfield.

The second team:

John Dunlop, Kenyon senior from Coshocton; Stan Starkey, Wittenberg senior from Toledo; Jim McKee, Otterbein senior from Groveport; Harvey Hopson, Baldwin - Wallace senior from Cleveland and Rick Harmer, Muskingum junior from Zanesville.

Honorable mention—Levi Wingard, Wittenberg senior from Elyria; Mark Ulrey, Marietta senior from Cincinnati; Max Hillman, Marietta senior from Cincinnati; Cliff Hunt, Hiram senior from Strongsville and Don Kalb, Capital freshman from Wynford.

Nets Lose Game, Coach Zaslofsky

By The Associated Press

The New York Nets keep dropping down, down, down in the American Basketball Association.

They lost their ninth straight Wednesday night, absorbing a 128-103 drubbing from the Kentucky Colonels. The defeat came a few hours after Max Zaslofsky resigned as the Nets' coach and general manager, effective at the end of the season.

Louie Dampier, with 34, and Darel Darrier, with 21, combined for 55 points as the Colonels won their fifth straight and climbed within one game of first-place Miami in the Eastern Division. Walt Simon got 26 for the Nets.

Oakland, the Western Division leader, defeated Houston 140-134 and Indiana trimmmed Dalla 131-96 in a doubleheader at Indianapolis. The Los Angeles Stars downed Minnesota 123-1118 in the other game scheduled.

Gary Bradds paced Oakland over Houston with 32 points. Bob Verga's 33 topped the Mavericks. Freddie Lewis, with 43, and Roger Brown, with 32, combined for 75 points in leading Indiana over Dallas for the Pacers' first triumph over the Chaparrals in nine games. Ron Boone was high for Dallas with 21.

Merv Jackson scored 32 points, 14 in the last quarter, to lead the Stars over Minnesota.

Hill Named All-American

Midland's Sim Hill has been named to the first team All-America college basketball team as selected by the Sporting News.

Hill, of West Texas State, is joined by Lew Alcindor of UCLA, Spencer Haywood of Detroit, Pete Maravich of LSU, Jo Jo White of Kansas and Rick Mount of Purdue.

Hill was also named one of the top five pro prospects in the country by Basketball Weekly.

The AP and UPI All-American teams gave Hill honorable mention.

By R. L. SHAFFER

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Bill Musselman, Ashland College basketball coach, believes in setting goals—like being the top small college team in the nation, winning the national championship and being the best defensive team in the nation.

Today, his Eagles have reached two of those goals and will be working on the third this weekend when they play host to the NCAA Mideast regional tournament—a step toward the national title which will be decided at Evansville, Ind.

The Eagles were named the best small college team in the nation Wednesday by The Associated Press, based on votes of a national panel of 18 sports writers and broadcasters.

Ashland received eight first-place votes and a total of 367 points. Runner-up Fairmont, W.Va., had one first and 262 points.

Trailing the top two in this order were: Alcorn A&M, Howard Payne, Trinity Tex., Kentucky Wesleyan, Stephen F. Austin, Southwestern, La., Lamar Tech and Gannon, Pa.

"If you don't set goals, you can't accomplish anything," says the 28-year-old Musselman, who goes around the country recruiting players by informing them that Ashland is going to win a national title. He set his goals at the beginning of the year, even though he had only one starter back from the 1967-68 season.

The thing about Musselman's goals is that people start believing in them—especially basketball players.

His first year as varsity coach in 1965-66, Ashland broke even —10 wins and 10 losses.

"The next year we posted a sign in the locker room saying we were going to be the best defensive team in the nation," says Musselman. After four games, the boys began to believe they could do it."

Ashland wound up with a 21-3 record that year and the next season set a national record for defense, allowing an average of 38.8 points per game, and posted a 24-6 record.

Musselman was greeted with some scepticism when he said he could better that mark. The Eagles dropped the record to 31 points per game this year in winning 23 and losing two.

"Some people have been critical of our disciplined and defensive style of play," said the coach, "but I guess we've proved this year that that might be the best way to play winning basketball."

The final Top 20 with first place votes, season records through Sat. March 1 and total points for the first 15 picks on a basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-etc.:

Counts On Hisle, Money

Skinner Cracking Down In Phillie Training Camp

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Bob Skinner, known as everybody's friend last year as a rookie manager, is cracking the whip this spring in the camp of the Philadelphia Phillies. After a seventh-place finish in 1968 and 18 straight non-winning years the word is—put out or get out.

No club in baseball is working harder this spring than the Phils. They run laps around the new training complex until their tongues hang out. They team up on the exercise machines in a grunt and groan routine that smacks more of a Vince Lombardi drill than a Phillie workout.

"I am a great believer in conditioning," said Skinner during a brief respite in the grind. "We're going to work on the basics and the right attitude. I understand this is rather new with the Phillies.

Skinner, who replaced Gene Mauch last June 15, is well aware of talk about a lack of consistency in discipline and a permissiveness in conditioning last summer.

"I came here in the middle of the year. I had to find out about my personnel. I spent most of the year studying. I had to find out just what had to be done.

Youngsters like Don Money, the shortstop the club got from Pittsburgh in the Jim Bunning deal last year, and Larry Hisle, the centerfielder of the future, are key men in the 1969 plans.

Money, 21, hit .303 at San Diego where he had nine homers and 59 runs batttd in. Hisle, also 21, also batted .303 at San Diego. Hisle was stricken with hepatitis June 30 and saw no more action but hit six homes in 69 games with the Padres. He has been given a clean bill of health by the medicos.

Much depends on Richie Allen, the sometimes temperamental slugger whose career almost was ended by a serious hand injury in 1967. Although he could swing only one good hand, he slammed 33 homers and drove in 90 runs last year while batting .263.

"Allen is a great player," said Skinner. "He could be the outstanding player in the league. I know there were problems about showing up late and other things but they happened before I came."

Skinner's outfield probably will have Allen in left, Hisle in Center and Johnny Callison in right. Ron Stone, acquired from Baltimore in the Clay Dalrymple deal, is a well-liked outfield prospect. Don Lock also is available.

Deron Johnson will get a shot at first base. Johnson flopped badly at Atlanta last year where he hit only .208 but Skinner hopes he can come back to his old Cincinnati form.

Bill White is in the first base fight with Johnson. If White can make it at 35, Johnson could wind up at third base. Tony Taylor will be either at third or battling Cookie Rojas at second, depending on Johnson. John Briggs, also is listed as a first baseman this year.

With Dalrymple gone, Mike Ryan figures to be the No. 1 catcher, backed up by John Sullivan or Doc Edwards, both now on minor league rosters.

Chris Short is the big man of the pitching staff. Rick Wise, Woody Fryman and Jerry Johnson, a fine '68 rookie, could be the other starters. Gary Wagner, Bill Wilson and Dick Farrell man the bullpen. Rookies due for a long look include Barry Lersch (11-8 at San Diego), Larry Colton (5-2 at San Diego), Lowell Palmer (13-8 at San Diego), Pat Bayless (12-8 at Reading) and Bill Laxton (3-6 at Porstmouth).

2-1 Trade Backfires On Knicks

By The Associated Press

When New York and Detroit made their big National Basketball Association trade last December the Knicks gave up two for one. Wednesday night the two was one too many.

Howard Komives had his best night as a Piston with 30 points and seven assists in Detroit's 128-120 victory over the Knicks. Walt Bellamy, who joined him on the New York-to-Detroit trip, added 21 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, offsetting the 26 points and 21 rebounds for Dave DeBusschere, who traveled the opposite route.

Elsewhere, Chicago moved into the fourth and last playoff spot in the Western Division by three points over San Diego with a 124-108 rout of Milwaukee and San Francisco defeated Baltimore 114-107.

Bellamy and Jimmy Walker, who scored 29 points in his most solid performance in weeks, pumped in 12 apiece in the third period as the Pistons stretched a three-point lead to eight. Komives then drilled in 14 in the final quarter to keep the Knicks at bay.

It was a costly defeat for the Knicks, dropping them 1½ games behind second-place Philadelphia in the East and leaving them 4½ behind front-running Baltimore.

The Bulls shot accurately and controlled the boards as they whipped Milwaukee and edged past idle San Diego. Jerry Sloan fired Chicago with 43 points while Jon McGlocklin had 38 for the losers.

The Bulls built a 17-point lead in the first period but had to pull away again after the Bucks cut it to 74-70 midway through the third quarter.

Baltimore wiped out a 10-point San Francisco lead in the fourth period as Earl Monroe scored 18 of his 42 points in the quarter. But Jeff Mullins' basket put the Warriors ahead again, this time for good.

Nate Thurmond led the winners with 34 and Mullins added 28.

Kenyon's John Rinka Heads OC All-Stars

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Little John Rinka of Kenyon College, one of the nation's best shotmakers, heads up the All-Ohio Conference basketball team named today by the league's 14 coaches.

Rinka, a 5-foot-9 junior and 6 - 6 Chuck Claggett, a junior from Denison, are the only repeaters from last season's squad.

Rinka, who paced the conference in scoring for the second straight year, was named captain of the all-league team for the second time by receiving the most votes. He finished with a 34.8 average.

Filling out the first team are Ted Johnson, 6-5 senior from Baldwin-Wallace; Lorenzo Hunt, 6-3 junior from Otterbein and Tom Dinger, 5 - 11 sophomore from Wooster.

The 1968-69 All-Ohio Conference Basketball team:

John Rinka, Kenyon, 5-9 junior from Milwaukee, Wis.; Ted Johnson, Baldwin-Wallace, 6-5 senior from Dayton; Chuck Clagggett, Denison, 6 - 6 junior from Newark; Lorenzo Hunt, Otterbein, 6-3 junior from Jamaica, N. Y.; Tom Dinger, Wooster, 5-11 sophomore from Mansfield.

The second team:

John Dunlop, Kenyon senior from Coshocton; Stan Starkey, Wittenberg senior from Toledo; Jim McKee, Otterbein senior from Groveport; Harvey Hopson, Baldwin - Wallace senior from Cleveland and Rick Harmer, Muskingum junior from Zanesville.

Honorable mention—Levi Wingard, Wittenberg senior from Elyria; Mark Ulrey, Marietta senior from Cincinnati; Max Hillman, Marietta senior from Cincinnati; Cliff Hunt, Hiram senior from Strongsville and Don Kalb, Capital freshman from Wynford.

Nonpareil Club To Buy Cage Patches

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club voted to buy Big 8 Champ patches for the members of the 1968-69 East Liverpool High basketball team.

The decision was made at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at Headpin Lanes. About 40 attended.

Littler Potter Basketball League trophies were awarded to all sponsors, and the winner's trophy went to East Junior.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of finding a permanent meeting site to be owned by the club.

Nets Lose Game, Coach Zaslofsky

By The Associated Press

The New York Nets keep dropping down, down, down in the American Basketball Association.

They lost their ninth straight Wednesday night, absorbing a 128-103 drubbing from the Kentucky Colonels. The defeat came a few hours after Max Zaslofsky resigned as the Nets' coach and general manager, effective at the end of the season.

Louie Dampier, with 34, and Darel Darrier, with 21, combined for 55 points as the Colonels won their fifth straight and climbed within one game of first-place Miami in the Eastern Division. Walt Simon got 26 for the Nets.

Oakland, the Western Division leader, defeated Houston 140-134 and Indiana trimmmed Dalla 131-96 in a doubleheader at Indianapolis. The Los Angeles Stars downed Minnesota 123-1118 in the other game scheduled.

Gary Bradds paced Oakland over Houston with 32 points. Bob Verga's 33 topped the Mavericks. Freddie Lewis, with 43, and Roger Brown, with 32, combined for 75 points in leading Indiana over Dallas for the Pacers' first triumph over the Chaparrals in nine games. Ron Boone was high for Dallas with 21.

Merv Jackson scored 32 points, 14 in the last quarter, to lead the Stars over Minnesota.

Hill Named All-American

Midland's Sim Hill has been named to the first team All-America college basketball team as selected by the Sporting News.

Hill, of West Texas State, is joined by Lew Alcindor of UCLA, Spencer Haywood of Detroit, Pete Maravich of LSU, Jo Jo White of Kansas and Rick Mount of Purdue.

Hill was also named one of the top five pro prospects in the country by Basketball Weekly.

The AP and UPI All-American teams gave Hill honorable mention.

Hill is a senior at West Texas and played on the Midland 1965 state champions.

Dapper Dan Club Seeking Members

The Dapper Dan Club of the Upper Ohio Valley is having a drive for members in East Liverpool.

Those interested should contact Bob Curran at Mike Turk Inc. or Harry McConville.

The club is headquartered in Toronto and puts on a large sports banquet every winter along with other activities.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

'Love' Finds Andy Williams

It was the wildest kind of a taping. Not in the metallic sterility of a stuido, but in a theater — that handsome new jewel box of a semi-circular, open-stage playhouse, the Mark Taper Forum in the Los Angeles Music Center complex.

Cecil Smith

It is a theater that previously has been used exclusively for heavy drama, starkly modern plays and classics. Last week: Aeschylus; tonight, Andy Williams.

"When you do a special," said Andy, "it should be something completely apart from what you do on a regular show. Even the atmopshere should be different.

"I WANTED this like a concert. Playing directly to the audience. You can't have that in a studio. Anyway, I love this theater. I always wanted to work here."

Technicians don't love this theater. When you move out of a studio, there are problems. The taping goes in starts and stops, drags interminably. Sound quits. A light explodes. Producer Jack Good in a rust-colored sweater and sneakers hops around the stage like a bespectacled robin.

"When you see the earth from the moon it's a small round ball," he tells the audience. "I want this room to be a microcosm of the world, containing people of every kind." The audience cheers. "Groovy," says Jack.

"WHEN YOU move out of the studio, you can control your audience," said Andy. "This is a very young show and I wanted a very young audience. We hand-picked them, bused them in from high schools and colleges.

"The kind of kids you play to in concerts. There are no tourists here like you have at the studio, people who came because they couldn't get tickets to Lawrence Welk."

This is Andy's "Love" special, which NBC will offer Wednesday, March 19. It is defiantly young. The guest performers include the latest British teen-idol Donovan, the Smothers Bros., the soul music of the Ike and Tina Turner Revue, the sensational young blind guitarist Jose Feliciano, introduced by Andy as "the most exciting young talent in the country."

FELICIANO, green suited with green suede shoes, is led to his stool onstage by his wife Maria. He trades insults with Andy while the technicians work on equipment. He starts to sing "Moon River." Andy says: "Shut up."

"Now Andy and I will do 'The Flight of the Bumblebee,'" sayd Feliciano, whisking fingers over the strings. He shifts to classical Spanish music. He does a folk-rock song, then plays a haunting accompaniment to Andy singing "Autumn Leaves."

"This isn't the kind of show I would do on the weekly series," said Andy, who begins a new variety hour for NBC next fall on Saturday nights, opposite Jackie Gleason.

"I THINK on a weekly basis you have to go more middle of the road. But it will be young. Most of the complaints I got from my last series was that it was on too late at night for young people. The young buy my records. Bucking Gleason is rough, but what isn't?—and I don't think the young dig Gleason."

The theater is decked out in masses of spring flowers, entwined in the backstage mesh, banked about the stage. Even the mikes and booms are entwined with flowers.

"Who died?" asked Andy. The audience wears flowers in its hair. Symbols of youth, spring, love. Andy sets the tone with the mounting beat of "Get Together."

PRODUCER GOOD symbolizes the kind of the show this is. He came out of England to launch "Shindig" a few years ago. He produced the recent James Brown Special, watched, he says, "by no one over 20."

A year ago he was next door in the huge Ahmanson Theater staging his "popera"—"Catch My Soul," a hard rock-rhythm musical version of "Othello."

This is the first TV show to be taped in its entirety in one of the theaters of the Music Center. There will be another April 14 when the movie Academy Awards are presented in the nearby Dorothy Chandler Pavilion.

The taping gropes along. Tommy Smothers tells jokes in the breaks. Tina Turner sells "Soul" with the fervency of a revival preacher. The young in the curving banks of seats rising from the stage bend to the music, clap to it, rock to it, sometimes leap up for an impromptu dance.

The irony—Andy offering "love" to the young for a special scheduled late at night.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

'Love' Finds Andy Williams

It was the wildest kind of a taping. Not in the metallic sterility of a stuido, but in a theater — that handsome new jewel box of a semi-circular, open-stage playhouse, the Mark Taper Forum in the Los Angeles Music Center complex.

Cecil Smith

It is a theater that previously has been used exclusively for heavy drama, starkly modern plays and classics. Last week: Aeschylus; tonight, Andy Williams.

"When you do a special," said Andy, "it should be something completely apart from what you do on a regular show. Even the atmopshere should be different.

"I WANTED this like a concert. Playing directly to the audience. You can't have that in a studio. Anyway, I love this theater. I always wanted to work here."

Technicians don't love this theater. When you move out of a studio, there are problems. The taping goes in starts and stops, drags interminably. Sound quits. A light explodes. Producer Jack Good in a rust-colored sweater and sneakers hops around the stage like a bespectacled robin.

"When you see the earth from the moon it's a small round ball," he tells the audience. "I want this room to be a microcosm of the world, containing people of every kind." The audience cheers. "Groovy," says Jack.

"WHEN YOU move out of the studio, you can control your audience," said Andy. "This is a very young show and I wanted a very young audience. We hand-picked them, bused them in from high schools and colleges.

"The kind of kids you play to in concerts. There are no tourists here like you have at the studio, people who came because they couldn't get tickets to Lawrence Welk."

This is Andy's "Love" special, which NBC will offer Wednesday, March 19. It is defiantly young. The guest performers include the latest British teen-idol Donovan, the Smothers Bros., the soul music of the Ike and Tina Turner Revue, the sensational young blind guitarist Jose Feliciano, introduced by Andy as "the most exciting young talent in the country."

FELICIANO, green suited with green suede shoes, is led to his stool onstage by his wife Maria. He trades insults with Andy while the technicians work on equipment. He starts to sing "Moon River." Andy says: "Shut up."

"Now Andy and I will do 'The Flight of the Bumblebee,'" sayd Feliciano, whisking fingers over the strings. He shifts to classical Spanish music. He does a folk-rock song, then plays a haunting accompaniment to Andy singing "Autumn Leaves."

"This isn't the kind of show I would do on the weekly series," said Andy, who begins a new variety hour for NBC next fall on Saturday nights, opposite Jackie Gleason.

"I THINK on a weekly basis you have to go more middle of the road. But it will be young. Most of the complaints I got from my last series was that it was on too late at night for young people. The young buy my records. Bucking Gleason is rough, but what isn't?—and I don't think the young dig Gleason."

The theater is decked out in masses of spring flowers, entwined in the backstage mesh, banked about the stage. Even the mikes and booms are entwined with flowers.

"Who died?" asked Andy. The audience wears flowers in its hair. Symbols of youth, spring, love. Andy sets the tone with the mounting beat of "Get Together."

The song says it: "Come on, people, now smile upon your brother, everybody together, try to love one another—right now!"

PRODUCER GOOD symbolizes the kind of the show this is. He came out of England to launch "Shindig" a few years ago. He produced the recent James Brown Special, watched, he says, "by no one over 20."

A year ago he was next door in the huge Ahmanson Theater staging his "popera"—"Catch My Soul," a hard rock-rhythm musical version of "Othello."

This is the first TV show to be taped in its entirety in one of the theaters of the Music Center. There will be another April 14 when the movie Academy Awards are presented in the nearby Dorothy Chandler Pavilion.

The taping gropes along. Tommy Smothers tells jokes in the breaks. Tina Turner sells "Soul" with the fervency of a revival preacher. The young in the curving banks of seats rising from the stage bend to the music, clap to it, rock to it, sometimes leap up for an impromptu dance.

The irony—Andy offering "love" to the young for a special scheduled late at night.

ACCUMULATED ICE on decks, rigging and superstructure of a ship is an occupational hazard for Arctic fishermen. As the ice cover builds up, the center of gravity moves upwards and the ship at the same time is forced lower into the water, losing freeboard. If no action can be taken to check the icing, the ship will capsize as many have in northern waters. This photo by Gretar Oddsson shows the Icelandic trawler Rodull safe in port.

ANN LANDERS

Person-To-Puppy Chat

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Awhile back you said it was risky to publish letters about people who act foolish over cats or dogs because every time you do dozens of readers telephone the publisher, write to the editor, cancel their advertising and stop taking the paper.

Even if this letter never makes the column I want to tell you what happened to my sister.

Dora lives next door to people who have a pet Scottie named MacTavish. They went on a trip recently and asked Dora if she would take MacTavish. Last year they put him in a kennel for 10 days and he went on a hunger strike and nearly starved to death.

These people telephoned Dora every night to talk to their dog. In fact, they put the call through person-to-person for Mr. Sandy MacTavish. Dora held the dog up to the phone and when he heard their voices he cried for three minutes and that was supposed to be a conversation.

Are people getting crazier, Ann, or are the crazy people just getting more publicity? Where will it all end? — BAFFLED BARNEY.

Dear Baff: Do you know that Americans spend more money on dog food that on baby food? And only last week I read where dog cosmetics are getting to be big business.

Gone are the days when flea powder was the only thing you could buy for a mutt. Now you can select Poochie Nail Polish in five shades, perfumes with names like Le Chien, Third Paw and Arf Pette.

A birth control pill is available for lady dogs who go in for planned parenthood. And dig this — there's a hound's mouthwash called Happy Breath. Man's best friend is also one of his best customers.

Help Available

Dear Ann: I want to help "Oregon Grandma." She told of her 8-year-old grandchild who was burned when she was 3. The burns healed eventually, she said, but her once-beautiful little face is now badly disfigured.

I'm sure you know of the 19 crippled children's hospitals owned and operated by the Shriners of North America. You may not know, however, that the Shriners now have three hospitals devoted exclusively to burn problems. They are located in Boston, Galveston and Cincinnati.

Like the crippled children's hospitals, they treat all the youngsters without charge. Consequently, treatment is restricted to those who cannot afford to pay. This is the ONLY restriction, however. Children of all races, colors and creeds are admitted.

If you will send me the name and address of the Oregon Grandmother, I will put her in touch with the nearest Shrine Burn Hospital. Sincerely, W.L.S.

Dear W. L. S.: We do not save letters once they have been published. If Oregon Grandmother sees this and writes to me, I'll see that she gets your information. In the meantime, you have informed 54 million people of this splendid service by the Shriners and I thank you.

In this connection, several readers have written about another organization which would help the little girl. It is the Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Disfigured, Inc., 550 1st Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Astronauts May Mount TV Camera On Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts may mount a television camera on the moon to provide live coverage of their blastoff back to earth this summer.

Spacecraft-to-earth telecasts in living color are also under study as Space Agency planners consider how TV should be put to work on future Apollo flights.

"There is a strong feeling to try to use TV in a real communications role—as an adjunct to voice," said Paul Haney, public affairs chief at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center.

America's next three-man flight, Apollo 10, "will probably be the most televised flight we have," Haney said in an interview. "There are indications the crew is willing to mount the TV camera inside the cabin, turn it on and leave it on."

Apollo 10, scheduled to blast off in mid-May, is planned as an around-the-moon journey similar to the flight of Apollo 8 last Christmas.

The Apollo 10 astronauts—Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young—may also carry an experimental camera to relay color TV. All spacecraft-to-earth telecasts in the past have been in black-and-white.

Once regarded only as a gimmick by many persons in the space program, television now is being recognized as a useful tool, Hanye said.

Left on for long periods in the cabin, it would give flight controllers a better idea of how spacemen work in their normal routine.

Mounted on the surface of the moon to televise astronauts returning to earth, the camera could provide valuable engineering data.

Such a telecast would require a power supply that may not be available for the first moon-landing mission, now scheduled in mid-July in Apollo 11, but could be carried on following flights, Haney said.

Beginning with Apollo 10, two TV cameras will be carried on each flight—one in the command ship and one in the lunar ship. On Apollo 9, only one camera is aboard—in the LEM, as the lunar ferry ship is called. Weighing 7.25 pounds, the camera, similar in size to a hand drill, uses only 6.5 watts of electricity.

On the moon landing mission, planned now for Apollo 11 in July, a similar camera will be placed on a hatch on the LEM.

"After the lunar module has landed on the moon," said a spokesman for Westinghouse Electric Corp., the manufacturer of the camera, "the access hatch will open, aiming the camera at the ladder the astronauts will descend and also at the point where the first American will set foot on the moon."

Ohio Teacher Contract Ruling Set By Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown said Wednesday that local school boards may determine by employment contract with teachers what constitutes "regular" and "additional" duties.

In an opinion for Trumbull County Prosecutor David M. Griffith, Brown said provisions for assignment of substitute teaching duties as part of regular duties and compensation are proper subjects of a supplemental contract.

Akron Woman Meets With First Family

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Akron woman who has achieved top rank in the federal government was among six winners of the 1969 Federal Woman's Awards meeting today with President and Mrs. Nixon in the White House.

Dr. Jo Ann Smith Kinney is supervising psychologist at the Vision Branch of the submarine medical research laboratory at the Naval Submarine Medical Center in Groton, Conn.

Cases Reduced For Two Courts

LISBON — Columbiana County's two Common Pleas courts reduced the number of pending cases from 871 Feb. 1 to 858 Feb. 28.

Eighty new cases, including 37 divorce actions, were filed last month, but the courts disposed of 93 cases during the same period.

An analysis of dispositions shows 46 cases tried to court, six jury trials, six cognovit and default judgments and 35 cases settled or dismissed.

Eight county cases are pending in the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

Suspensions Set In Driving Cases

LISBON — Four youths lost the right to drive for 3 days following juvenile traffic hearings Tuesday at the Courthouse.

They are Robert A. Deem, 16, of Boring Ln., East Liverpool, failure to have vehicle under control; Robert L. May, 16, of East Palestine, reckless operation causing accident, and Thomas J. Lorey, 17, of East Palestine and Robert F. Lamp, 17, of Shadyside Ave., East Liverpool, both cited for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Jeffrey A. Perry, 16, of Leetonia, charged with speeding, had to surrender his license for 20 days.

Raymond C. Brothers, 16, of Salineville and Martin E. Adams, 16, of Salineville RD 3 were fined $25 each for speeding.

The $20 bill is the favorite denomination of counterfeiters.

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Beaver Local Board of Education at the Office of the Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio until 12:00 Noon, E.S.T. on the 15th day of April 1969 and opened immediately thereafter for furnishing the material and performing the labor for the installation of the Electrical Work in the Restroom Addition to the Calcutta Elementary School, Beaver Local School District, Columbiana County, Ohio in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio.

One set of Plans and Specifications and Proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit or a check in the amount of $10.00 made payable to the Architect. If an additional set of plans and specifications are requested by the Bidder, then said Bidder will be charged the actual reproduction costs of the additional set.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of the bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph SHIPPING CHARGES COLLECT.

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of Plans and Specifications in good condition, and with postage or express charges prepaid, within ten (10) days after the date bids are opened. The deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid and Performance Bond in an amount equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a Certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do surety business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a bond with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to the "Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio", and plainly marked on the outside of the envelope:

"Bid for the Electrical Contract in the Restroom Addition to the Calcutta Elementary School, Beaver Local School District".

The Beaver Local Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 10, 1969

AN ORDINANCE REPEALING BOTH ORDINANCE NUMBER 70, 1968, AND ITS AMENDING ORDINANCE, ORDINANCE NUMBER 73, 1968, WHICH SAID ORDINANCES REPEALED ORDINANCE NUMBER 4378, 1956, AS AMENDED, WHICH SAID ORDINANCES WERE TO BE EFFECTIVE MIDNIGHT THE 28th OF FEBRUARY, 1969.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of East Liverpool did provide in SECTION 1 of Amending Ordinance Number 73, 1968, that the effective date of repealing Ordinance Number 70, 1968, pertaining to the employment of School Crossing Guards, would apply only after Midnight the 28th day of February, 1969; and

WHEREAS, City Council, prior to the effective date contained in Section 1 of said Amending Ordinance, is now desirous of continuing the employment of School Crossing Guards for an indefinite period.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That both Ordinances Number 70, 1968, and Amending Ordinance Number 73, 1968, be and the same are hereby immediately repealed.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that it is now necessary that said Council continue to provide for the municipal employment of School Crossing Guards and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Passed this 17th day of February, 1969.

ACCUMULATED ICE on decks, rigging and superstructure of a ship is an occupational hazard for Arctic fishermen. As the ice cover builds up, the center of gravity moves upwards and the ship at the same time is forced lower into the water, losing freeboard. If no action can be taken to check the icing, the ship will capsize as many have in northern waters. This photo by Gretar Oddsson shows the Icelandic trawler Rodull safe in port.

ANN LANDERS

Person-To-Puppy Chat

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Awhile back you said it was risky to publish letters about people who act foolish over cats or dogs because every time you do dozens of readers telephone the publisher, write to the editor, cancel their advertising and stop taking the paper.

Even if this letter never makes the column I want to tell you what happened to my sister.

Dora lives next door to people who have a pet Scottie named MacTavish. They went on a trip recently and asked Dora if she would take MacTavish. Last year they put him in a kennel for 10 days and he went on a hunger strike and nearly starved to death.

These people telephoned Dora every night to talk to their dog. In fact, they put the call through person-to-person for Mr. Sandy MacTavish. Dora held the dog up to the phone and when he heard their voices he cried for three minutes and that was supposed to be a conversation.

Are people getting crazier, Ann, or are the crazy people just getting more publicity? Where will it all end? — BAFFLED BARNEY.

Dear Baff: Do you know that Americans spend more money on dog food that on baby food? And only last week I read where dog cosmetics are getting to be big business.

Gone are the days when flea powder was the only thing you could buy for a mutt. Now you can select Poochie Nail Polish in five shades, perfumes with names like Le Chien, Third Paw and Arf Pette.

A birth control pill is available for lady dogs who go in for planned parenthood. And dig this — there's a hound's mouthwash called Happy Breath. Man's best friend is also one of his best customers.

Help Available

Dear Ann: I want to help "Oregon Grandma." She told of her 8-year-old grandchild who was burned when she was 3. The burns healed eventually, she said, but her once-beautiful little face is now badly disfigured.

I'm sure you know of the 19 crippled children's hospitals owned and operated by the Shriners of North America. You may not know, however, that the Shriners now have three hospitals devoted exclusively to burn problems. They are located in Boston, Galveston and Cincinnati.

Like the crippled children's hospitals, they treat all the youngsters without charge. Consequently, treatment is restricted to those who cannot afford to pay. This is the ONLY restriction, however. Children of all races, colors and creeds are admitted.

If you will send me the name and address of the Oregon Grandmother, I will put her in touch with the nearest Shrine Burn Hospital. Sincerely, W.L.S.

Dear W. L. S.: We do not save letters once they have been published. If Oregon Grandmother sees this and writes to me, I'll see that she gets your information. In the meantime, you have informed 54 million people of this splendid service by the Shriners and I thank you.

In this connection, several readers have written about another organization which would help the little girl. It is the Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Disfigured, Inc., 550 1st Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Astronauts May Mount TV Camera On Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts may mount a television camera on the moon to provide live coverage of their blastoff back to earth this summer.

Spacecraft-to-earth telecasts in living color are also under study as Space Agency planners consider how TV should be put to work on future Apollo flights.

"There is a strong feeling to try to use TV in a real communications role—as an adjunct to voice," said Paul Haney, public affairs chief at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center.

America's next three-man flight, Apollo 10, "will probably be the most televised flight we have," Haney said in an interview. "There are indications the crew is willing to mount the TV camera inside the cabin, turn it on and leave it on."

Apollo 10, scheduled to blast off in mid-May, is planned as an around-the-moon journey similar to the flight of Apollo 8 last Christmas.

The Apollo 10 astronauts—Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young—may also carry an experimental camera to relay color TV. All spacecraft-to-earth telecasts in the past have been in black-and-white.

Once regarded only as a gimmick by many persons in the space program, television now is being recognized as a useful tool, Hanye said.

Left on for long periods in the cabin, it would give flight controllers a better idea of how spacemen work in their normal routine.

Mounted on the surface of the moon to televise astronauts returning to earth, the camera could provide valuable engineering data.

Such a telecast would require a power supply that may not be available for the first moon-landing mission, now scheduled in mid-July in Apollo 11, but could be carried on following flights, Haney said.

Beginning with Apollo 10, two TV cameras will be carried on each flight—one in the command ship and one in the lunar ship. On Apollo 9, only one camera is aboard—in the LEM, as the lunar ferry ship is called. Weighing 7.25 pounds, the camera, similar in size to a hand drill, uses only 6.5 watts of electricity.

On the moon landing mission, planned now for Apollo 11 in July, a similar camera will be placed on a hatch on the LEM.

"After the lunar module has landed on the moon," said a spokesman for Westinghouse Electric Corp., the manufacturer of the camera, "the access hatch will open, aiming the camera at the ladder the astronauts will descend and also at the point where the first American will set foot on the moon."

Ohio Teacher Contract Ruling Set By Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown said Wednesday that local school boards may determine by employment contract with teachers what constitutes "regular" and "additional" duties.

In an opinion for Trumbull County Prosecutor David M. Griffith, Brown said provisions for assignment of substitute teaching duties as part of regular duties and compensation are proper subjects of a supplemental contract.

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Beaver Local Board of Education at the Office of the Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio until 12:00 Noon, E.S.T. on the 15th day of April 1969 and opened immediately thereafter for furnishing the material and performing the labor for the installation of the Electrical Work in the Restroom Addition to the Calcutta Elementary School, Beaver Local School District, Columbiana County, Ohio in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio.

One set of Plans and Specifications and Proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit or a check in the amount of $10.00 made payable to the Architect. If an additional set of plans and specifications are requested by the Bidder, then said Bidder will be charged the actual reproduction costs of the additional set.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of the bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph SHIPPING CHARGES COLLECT.

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of Plans and Specifications in good condition, and with postage or express charges prepaid, within ten (10) days after the date bids are opened. The deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid and Performance Bond in an amount equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a Certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do surety business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a bond with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to the "Clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, Beaver Local Public School, R.F.D. No. 3, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio", and plainly marked on the outside of the envelope:

"Bid for the Electrical Contract in the Restroom Addition to the Calcutta Elementary School, Beaver Local School District".

The Beaver Local Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 10, 1969

AN ORDINANCE REPEALING BOTH ORDINANCE NUMBER 70, 1968, AND ITS AMENDING ORDINANCE, ORDINANCE NUMBER 73, 1968, WHICH SAID ORDINANCES REPEALED ORDINANCE NUMBER 4378, 1956, AS AMENDED, WHICH SAID ORDINANCES WERE TO BE EFFECTIVE MIDNIGHT THE 28th OF FEBRUARY, 1969.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of East Liverpool did provide in SECTION 1 of Amending Ordinance Number 73, 1968, that the effective date of repealing Ordinance Number 70, 1968, pertaining to the employment of School Crossing Guards, would apply only after Midnight the 28th day of February, 1969; and

WHEREAS, City Council, prior to the effective date contained in Section 1 of said Amending Ordinance, is now desirous of continuing the employment of School Crossing Guards for an indefinite period.

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That both Ordinances Number 70, 1968, and Amending Ordinance Number 73, 1968, be and the same are hereby immediately repealed.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that it is now necessary that said Council continue to provide for the municipal employment of School Crossing Guards and this action is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.

Passed this 17th day of February, 1969.

NORMAN BUCHER
President of Council

Cases Reduced For Two Courts

LISBON — Columbiana County's two Common Pleas courts reduced the number of pending cases from 871 Feb. 1 to 858 Feb. 28.

Eighty new cases, including 37 divorce actions, were filed last month, but the courts disposed of 93 cases during the same period.

An analysis of dispositions shows 46 cases tried to court, six jury trials, six cognovit and default judgments and 35 cases settled or dismissed.

Eight county cases are pending in the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

Suspensions Set In Driving Cases

LISBON — Four youths lost the right to drive for 3 days following juvenile traffic hearings Tuesday at the Courthouse.

They are Robert A. Deem, 16, of Boring Ln., East Liverpool, failure to have vehicle under control; Robert L. May, 16, of East Palestine, reckless operation causing accident, and Thomas J. Lorey, 17, of East Palestine and Robert F. Lamp, 17, of Shadyside Ave., East Liverpool, both cited for driving an unsafe vehicle.

Jeffrey A. Perry, 16, of Leetonia, charged with speeding, had to surrender his license for 20 days.

Raymond C. Brothers, 16, of Salineville and Martin E. Adams, 16, of Salineville RD 3 were fined $25 each for speeding.

The $20 bill is the favorite denomination of counterfeiters.

Junior Editors Quiz on GAMES

Question: Where did the royal game of chess come from?

Answer: Chess is often spoken of as a royal game, and it seems to have originated in Asia as the sport of kings and their courts. The very word "chess" comes from the Persian "shah" or king. In ancient days kings spent a lot of time warring against each other, and chess became popular with them because it reflected these battles in miniature. The pieces include a king, a queen, two bishops to stand for the authority of the church, knights representing the king's most trusted fighters and two castles, symbolizing the strong protection of fortresses. In front of these major pieces are the pawns, signifying the serfs under the king's protection. The object of the game is to checkmate or box up the king, so that he has nowhere to go under attack. Chess is not really difficult to play and is great fun. Get someone who knows the game to explain the diagram showing a tricky checkmate in two moves. It is white's move; he is being checked by the black queen; but the poor white king has nowhere to go and there is no friendly piece which can rescue him.

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, March 6, the 65th day of 1969. There are 300 days left in the year.

On this date in 1953, the Soviets announced that Georgi Malenkov had succeeded the late Joseph Stalin as premier of the Soviet Union.

In 1478, Renaissance artist Michelangelo was born in Caprese, Italy.

In 1836, the Alamo in San Antonio, Tex., fell after a 13-day siege.

In 1857, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Negro slave Dred Scott could not sue for his freedom in a federal court.

In 1996, Charles Brady King rode through Detroit in his horseless carriage-the first auto to appear on the streets of the city that became the auto capital of the world.

In 1945, during World War II, the German city of Cologne fell to the U.S. 1st Army.

In 1957, the former British African colonies of the Gold Coast and Togoland became the independent state of Ghana.

Ten years ago — Batteries of the U.S. Pioneer Four spacecraft went dead after transmitting radio signals while in orbit around the sun.

Five years ago — Crown Prince Constantine of Greece succeeded to the throne upon the death of King Paul.

One year ago — Rescue teams were trying to reach 21 miners trapped deep in a salt mine at Calumet, La.
